HUGE U. S. FLEET TO FIGHT RUM RUNNERS

22-Acre Playground to Adjoin City

RECREATION FACILITIES TO COST BIG SUM

Site Between Los Feliz and Riverside Drive Will Benefit Glendale

A new park and play-ground which will serve a large section of the city of Glendale is an assured fact, following the announcement this morning by the Los Angeles park board that they had turned over twenty-two acres on the west side of the Los Angeles river, between Riverside drive and Los Feliz road to the Los Angeles playground commission.

While the construction and operation of this new park will, of course, be under the direction of the city of Los Angeles, it will be available for residents of this city.

The tract will be in the shape of a parallelogram, and the plans as adopted by the playground commission call for features which will make it one of the finest recreation centers in this section of the country. Work on the project will be started as soon as possible. It is estimated that $100,000 will be expended on the grounds and equipment.

Recreation Facilities

According to the scheme as given to P. J. Hayselden, chairman of the bridges and highways committee of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, there will be two large swimming pools, first-class baseball diamond, straight-away cinder running track and other facilities that will appeal especially to the young people who are athletically inclined.

According to Mr. Hayselden, Alfred J. Barnes, 1209 Huntley drive, Los Angeles, who has always been a booster for Glendale, although owning no property here, was largely instrumental in putting this plan over. He has kept relentlessly hammering away at the project until action was taken by the playground commission.

Father O'Neill Is Now Wearing Beard

Glendalians who recall the young priest who came to Glendale a quarter of a century ago and established the Holy Family Catholic church and parish here, and enthusiastically progressed with the "fastest growing city in America," are always interested in news from Father James O'Neill, now parish priest at Oxnard.

Recent visitors with Father O'Neill in the north report that he is now wearing a Van Dyke beard, which is most becoming and adds dignity to his priestly appearance.

Mother Risks Life to Save Her Three Children in Fire

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Nov. 8.—A woman's heroism in a daring rescue of her three children buried under a flaming partition featured work in saving lives and property in a fire that broke out today in a cantonment building at Fort Niagara.

The woman is Mrs. Britschell, wife of Sergeant Frank W. Britschell. Smelling smoke while in the basement of the building recently converted into living quarters for non-commissioned officers, Mrs. Britschell rushed upstairs where her three children were sleeping. The wall board partition, a mass of flames, fell on the bed. She dragged the children to safety. She was slightly burned.

PLAN HOTEL ON VERDUGO HIGHWAY

$500,000 Will Be Spent on Convalescents' Home, It Is Announced

According to announcement made by James B. Ferguson, Sun building, Los Angeles, head of the Hotel Sanitoriums company, capitalized at $1,000,000, a sixteen-acre tract has been purchased in Verdugo Oaks, near the intersection of Colorado street and Verdugo road, Glendale, and plans are being formulated for the erection of a convalescent hotel to cost about $500,000.

It is stated that actual construction will be started within the next sixty days and if the plans are carried out the new building will be ready for occupancy about March 1.

Approximately $50,000 will be expended in the landscaping of the hotel grounds.

The present board of directors of the Hotel Sanitariums company consists of Eva Ball Ferguson, Herman D. Themar, George S. Yost, Frank Rouse and Dr. Augusta Stone.

It is also announced that final arrangements are being made to have a bond issue underwritten to be used in financing the project. Mr. Ferguson also stated that architectural plans are being drafted.

The plans, it is stated, call for a "class A" structure, four stories in height and having a total of 130 guest rooms, each with a private bath.

BANK VAULT ROBBED

SPOKANE, Nov. 8.—Three expert cracksmen late last night cut open the vault of the bank at Thornton, located thirty miles south of here, and escaped in an automobile with several thousand dollars in cash and securities, according to word received here.

Are You Qualified to Vote at Bond Election? If Not, Register at Once!

Registration of voters for the sewer bond election on January 8, 1924, is now under way in this city and a deputy to make registrations is on duty daily at The Glendale Evening News office between the hours of 4 and 8 p. m., Sundays excepted.

Also, beginning next Monday, a deputy will be at the city hall to take registrations from 1 to 4 p. m., except Sundays.

Any voter who registered in 1922, or since, AND HAS NOT CHANGED HIS OR HER PLACE OF RESIDENCE, is NOT required to re-register. He or she may vote at the bond election. Moving from one house into another constitutes a change of residence.

Any voter who registered in 1922, or since, and who HAS changed his or her place of residence, MUST re-register if he or she wishes to vote at the bond election.

A residence of one year in the state, ninety days in the county and thirty days in the precinct is necessary to qualify as a voter.

Any voter in doubt as to whether he or she is qualified to vote at the bond election is urged to IMMEDIATELY communicate with the city clerk's office for information.

DOCTORS ASK PERMIT FOR $250,000 PLANT

Request Comes Before City Council Tonight, Say Five Organizers

By AL DIX,
Of The Evening News Staff

Glendale is to have a new $250,000 hospital!

Five leading citizens of this city filed an application with City Clerk A. J. Van Wie today, which will be presented to the city council for action tonight, requesting that they be granted permission to erect a modern, fireproof building for hospital purposes. Unless complications arise, which are not apparent at this time, the request will in all probability be granted.

Names of Organizers

The signers of the application are: Dr. H. R. Boyer, 106 South Brand boulevard; Dr. J. E. Eckles, former city health officer, 125½ North Brand boulevard; Dr. H. V. Brown, secretary of the state board of medical examiners, 118 West Wilson avenue; Dr. O. A. Dietrich, 208 West Broadway, and O. W. Tarr, 102-A East Broadway. The four physicians are prominent in their profession, and Mr. Tarr has been engaged in business in Glendale for years.

The proposed site of the new structure, which will be known as the Physicians' & Surgeons' Hospital of Glendale, is on the north side of Laurel street between Brand boulevard and Central avenue.

Plan to Rush Work

Although the company is not incorporated as yet, and no architect has been employed, pending the action of the city council on the application, several meetings have been held, perfecting plans for the beginning of the work, which will be rushed to completion as soon as the permit is granted. Doctors Boyer, Eckles, Brown and Dietrich, with Mr. Tarr, are designated as the board of directors of the corporation now being formed, and will conduct and manage the proposed hospital. Dr. Dietrich is acting as trustee.

According to the application, the building will be modern throughout, and fireproof in every way. It further states that "there will be accommodation for at least fifty-two patients; that a sum estimated at from $200,000 to $250,000 will be expended for the purpose of making this an attractive, commodious, strictly modern hospital with all the necessary conveniences and accommodations for the care of its patients."

The hospital will be erected to care for general surgical, medical and obstetrical cases, and no one kind of special treatment or cure is proposed.

The incorporators state that the plans for the new building are well in hand, and they are ready to go ahead when granted permission to do so by the city council. The new hospital will be the third institution of its kind in the city, and with the strong personnel of its organizers will no doubt enjoy great popularity.

Plan Big Welcome for G. & M. Railway Engine

The electric engine that has been purchased for the Glendale & Montrose railway, and that has been on display at the exposition at Atlantic City, N. J., has arrived at Los Angeles and will reach Glendale early tomorrow morning.

A reception for the locomotive will be staged at the corner of Glendale avenue and California street at 6:55 a. m., under the auspices of the publicity committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and Preston L. Hatch, manager of the railway, will also assist in the ceremonies.

All the way across the continent the engine has been decorated with banners stating that it was en route to Glendale, and the attention it has attracted has spread the fame of this city over an even wider area than ever before.

PROSPECT OF DEBT MEET BRIGHTER

Hughes Silent as Parley on Reparations Reaches Delicate Stage

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
For International News Service

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Prospects for an accord between the American and French governments over the proposed reparations conference were materially brighter today, according to the guarded utterances of administration officials.

For ten somewhat tempestuous days responsibility for ending the negotiations has been shuttled back and forth between Washington and Paris.

One of the best indications that progress is at last actually being made is the sudden silence that Secretary Hughes has clamped down on the negotiations. When things were going badly and it looked like the death stroke might be given the conference any hour, the state department was eloquent in placing entire responsibility for the collapse of the negotiations on the shoulders of the French premier.

Status Is Delicate

Officially the status of the negotiations was described today as being "too delicate" to permit of discussion.

This usually means, it was pointed out, that the negotiations have reached a state where a final decision is impending and premature publicity might be embarrassing.

Secretary Hughes, it is understood, was not satisfied with Premier Poincare's definition of Germany's "present" capacity to pay reparations. In reply to Hughes' request for more light, Poincare explained that by "present" he meant the capacity of Germany to pay reparations during the present civil turmoil and prior to a return to the Reich to "normal."

It is now believed that the way has been paved for a complete understanding for the proposed conference. Progress will be rapid from now on, it is being predicted today.

Political Influence Over Veterans' Bureau Now Under Inquiry

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
For International News Service

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The senatorial investigation of the Veterans' Bureau today was directed into the alleged use of "political influence" in the administration of governent aid to soldiers.

Special agents for the committee were directed to investigate these charges:

First—The use of political influence in obtaining awards of government contracts.

Second—The "playing of favorites" in awarding compensation.

Third—Efforts of unnamed individuals to block the investigation by "hiding" important documents.

The committee also particularly asks for names of individuals attempting to block the investigation.

The committee was particularly concerned by charges of political influence in the award of a contract to the Continental Chemical company of Watseka, Ill. This company received a contract for $70,944 worth of floor polish, said to be enough to last the bureau 100 years.

Labor Council Adds $153 to Fire Fund

Additional subscriptions to the fund raised for Mrs. Johanna Edwards and Mrs. Joseph W. McGahan through The Glendale Evening News have been received at this office.

The Central Labor Council of Glendale, V. M. Hoyer, treasurer, has sent a check for $153.35 to be added to the fund. Of this sum $10 was subscribed by the Electrical local, $40.25 by the Painters' local, $90 by the Plumbers' local and $13.10 by the Carpenters' local. The money will be added to that already received by The Glendale Evening News since Tuesday, when checks were sent to Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. McGahan, and the additional sum divided equally between them. The total subscribed to date through The Glendale Evening News is now $3,956.75. The total sum secured by the all-star entertainment was $4075.50. The combined total is $8032.25.

PASS SAFETY BILL

MELBOURNE, Nov. 8.—The public safety bill was passed by parliament after second reading after an all-night session. It was brought by disorders arising from the policemen's strike.

FLIES OVER RAVAGED AREAS

Supervisor Wright Observes Burned District of Verdugos From Airplane

County Supervisor Henry W. Wright this morning made an inspection of the burned area of the Verdugo Hills, that was stripped of its vegetation by the recent disastrous fire, flying over the district in an airplane piloted by Dr. T. C. Young, a member of the fire prevention and flood control committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

At the end of his trip Supervisor Wright pledged himself to do everything in his power to stem the menace of floods that threatens Glendale during the coming winter.

Mr. Wright, on alighting from the plane, declared that his flight had given him an impression of the havoc wrought by the fire that would have been impossible under almost any other circumstances, and the serious condition of the denuded watershed, he declared, is something that calls for immediate action, if Glendale is to be saved immense property damage when the rainy season starts.

Clark Checks Up

Lyman P. Clark, chairman of the committee, also made a flight over the burned area, to check up the data that he and his associates, Dr. Young, Dan Kelty and L. T. Rowley have already compiled.

The members of the committee will meet with the county flood control engineers tomorrow morning in Los Angeles, to adopt plans for the work that has to be done before the threat of floods can be rendered powerless, and as soon as a definite program of flood control has been laid out the work will be hastened by every means at the command of the committee, as it is realized that the danger to the city is a serious one.

"The outlook for action to prevent flood damage is very good," commented Mr. Clark. "I believe that Supervisor Wright will see to it we get results."

Will Rogers Tells Ford How to Win

The joke of politics is that the man who hasn't the support of the politicians will never get nominated. And the man who has the support of the politicians will never get nominated, either, said Will Rogers, in an exclusive interview with The Glendale Evening News relative to Hiram Johnson's chances as a presidential possibility.

* * *

And the people's choice for president won't get to first base. That's why they've kept that act a headliner so long.

* * *

Lincoln was wrong. Barnum had the right dope—keep 'em fooled and happy.

* * *

I never could understand those conventions. It's like a horse race, only more so. Old Favorite, with all odds, gets lost in the shuffle. And in comes a ten to one shot.

* * *

I'm going down to one of those conventions next year and see how they work. I was going to nominate Henry Ford for president, but I think I'll play him for a dark horse.

* * *

Yep, I've got my money on him. He's the only man who ever took a joke and made it practical.

* * *

If he'd just say, "Gentlemen, if I'm elected, I'll change the front of 'em," he would win by unanimous vote.

Woman Hit by Auto; Hold Tujunga Man

W. E. Young, a resident of Tujunga, the Los Angeles police say, is being held in the Los Angeles city jail as the result of an automobile accident this morning that may result fatally.

Mrs. Virginia Anticonni was probably fatally injured when hit by an automobile driven, the police say, by Young. The accident occurred as the woman attempted to cross the street from her home in Sunset boulevard, Los Angeles.

Mrs. Virginia Anticenni was the receiving hospital, where physicians said she has little chance for recovery.

The police ordered that Young be held pending an investigation and the outcome of Mrs. Anticenni's injuries.

Inquiry at Tujunga has so far failed to reveal the residence of Young. A number of Tujunga residents state they do not know him.

Details of the accident were confirmed by the International News Service, which serves this paper through a leased wire.

RAIL WORKERS STRIKE

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 8.—Despite the order of the United States railroad labor board that they defer action until November 14, when a settlement would be made, between 400 and 500 engineers and firemen employed on the Virginia Railroad went on strike this morning.

20 MILLIONS NEEDED FOR NEW CRAFT, CONGRESS TO LEARN

Administration Plans for Stronger Warfare on Liquor Smugglers

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Congress will be asked to appropriate $20,000,000 to provide a powerful fleet of new revenue cutters and motor boats to chase rum smugglers, it was learned at the treasury department this afternoon.

The administration plan calls for more than 200 additional boats to be operated under the coast guard. The coast guard's recommendations for new ships and additional personnel are supplemental to regular budget estimates of $11,000,000 for ordinary operations.

Outline Program

New rum boat chasers planned will include:

Twenty additional sea-going revenue cutters, cruiser type, to serve as bases for large fleets of motor boats.

Two hundred and three motor boats, cabin cruiser type, for use in shallow waters.

Ninety-one small motor boats for emergency use at coast guard stations.

With the approval of President Coolidge, officials supervising prohibition enforcement will ask congress to finance this expansion of coast guard operations.

Under the coast guard's regular budget estimate of $11,000,000, officials plan to put in service at sea a large number of coast guard vessels from the existing fleet. New appropriations will be used to equip many such craft tied up at different ports for repairs.

Congress also will be asked by the administration to authorize the use by the government against rum smugglers of rum smuggling ships seized by government customs officers.

The new plan for enlargement of rum boat chasers makes no provision for attacks from smugglers on the river boundaries of Mexico and Canada. Operations of this sort are left to the land forces of the prohibition unit.

CLASH AVERTED

SOFIA, Nov. 8.—Danger of an armed clash between Jugo-Slavia and Bulgaria over Belgrade's ultimatum demanding an apology and reparations for the recent attack against the Jugo-Slav military attache in this city, was averted today by the concessions of the Sofia government.

Literary Section

Roll call at the literature section meeting yesterday afternoon at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse was answered with current events. Mrs. Harry Wilcox, curator, directed the meeting, and introduced Mrs. Fred Abbey, who opened the program with reviews of magazines.

Later Mrs. F. L. Hollingsworth presented the subject, "Great Achievements of Today." A general discussion of recent books was enjoyed by the clubwomen.

During the afternoon two piano numbers were given by Mrs. G. M. Ball, and Miss Carol Marshall sang "Oh, for a Burst of Song" (Allitson) and a French song, "Could My Songs Their Way Be "Winging" (Mahan).

Miss Marshall is a pupil of Madame Ragna Linne, who was one of the guests yesterday.

Members of the section are to have the cooked food booth at the society circus next week, and ask that any club member who is not contributing to any other booth be solicited to aid the cooked food booth by a contribution.

Artists Guests

Mrs. E. W. Kinney of 123 West Elk street, who has arranged a delightful program of Russian music for the meeting tomorrow afternoon of the music section of the Tuesday Afternoon club at the clubhouse, had as luncheon guests at her home today the artists who will take part in the program.

The program will begin at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, and all club members are invited.

Appearing on the program will be Madame Cherniavsky Friedman, sister of the members of the Cherniavsky trio, now appearing in London, and at one time pupil of Hugo Heinz in London. She is a Russian by birth, and will sing Russian songs in her native tongue.

Another artist will be Gilman Williams baritone, a pupil of David Bistham.

Others appearing will be Alberta Metzler pianist, and Madame Marcella Webb, dancer, both of Glendale.

For Old Members

At the meeting yesterday afternoon of the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle, which was held at the public library, it was decided to change the date of "Old Members' Day" to November 21, instead of November 14, as has been announced. All members are urged to keep this date in mind and make a special effort to be present.

The meeting was presided over by the chairman, Mrs. H. V. Henry, who read the chapter "The Gang," from the book, "Play and Education," by Lee, which the members are studying.

The review on "Selecting Citizens," by Cornelia James Cannon, given by Mrs. D. F. Reichard, proved very interesting, and Mrs. Wintersgill delighted those present with a humorous poem.

Mrs. C. H. Crawford gave a talk, telling of the formation of a new reading circle in the Grand View district.

Meet Tomorrow

Members of W. R. C., of which Mrs. Flora M. Pixley is president, will meet tomorrow, Friday, November 9, at 2 o'clock, for their regular business meeting at the G. A. R. hall on South Glendale avenue.

During the business session plans will be inaugurated for the organization's Thanksgiving work. Mrs. Pixley urges all members to make a special effort to be present at this meeting as plans will be completed for the bazaar to be held the first part of December.

Preceding the W. R. C. gathering, the G. A. R. post will hold their business meeting with the commander, T. M. Barrett in charge.

Honor Statesman

Tribute to the memory of Alexander Hamilton, American statesman, was paid yesterday at the meeting of General Richard Gridley chapter, D. A. R., at the First Congregational church. A biographical sketch of this great American was written and read by Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward. Mrs. C W. Houston, regent, directed the meeting.

Miss Ida Meyers gave an interesting fifteen-minute talk on the Constitution, speaking particularly of the House of Representatives.

Later in the afternoon tea was served by the hostesses, Mesdames T. H. Addison and A. B Purrier.

♠ ♠ ♠

Rodaire Hostess

Mrs. Robert Godar of the Lane apartments, Chestnut street and Brand boulevard, was hostess last night to the members of the Rodaire club.

The evening was devoted to needlework, and at a late hour a delicious buffet supper was served.

Those present included Mesdames F. M. Duffy, Ray Engle Paul McCowan, James McGowan Herman Psenner; Misses Eva Brehme, Zilda Cross, Henrietta Meck, and the hostess, Mrs. Robert Godar.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Paul McCowan on South Pacific avenue.

Give Hope Chest

Mrs. Alexander Mitchell, chairman of the courtesy committee of the Tuesday Afternoon club, announces that the New England Furniture company at 231 South Brand boulevard, has donated a beautiful hope chest to be filled by the courtesy committee and given away at the society circus next week.

Members of the committee having articles for the chest are to leave them at the New England furniture store, where they will be displayed with the chest until next week.

Luncheon-Bazaar

One of the smart affairs of the season was the luncheon and bazaar given Wednesday at the beautiful new foothill home of Mrs. W. W. Worley, by chapter AH, P. E. O., for the benefit of their educational fund.

Mrs. Worley's home is one of the show places among the foothill homes which are making Glendale famous and the spacious rooms lent themselves most admirably for an affair of this kind.

The guests were received by Mrs. A. W. Beach, president of the chapter, and the hostess, Mrs. Worley.

The reception hall with its open staircase leading to the beautiful rooms above which were open to inspection, was given over to the bazaar. Many attractive articles, the work of the members of the chapter were on display.

Luncheon tables decorated in yellow and white, the P. E. O. colors, were arranged in the living-room, dining and breakfast rooms. At 12:30 an elaborate luncheon was served by the members of the chapter.

At 2 o'clock the articles displayed were on sale and in a few minutes the tables were bare and the guests were either triumphantly displaying their purchases or deploring the fact that they had not been quick enough. The affair was delightful socially as well as aiding a most worthy cause.

Hear Mrs. Danford

The meeting yesterday of the Doran Street Parent-Teachers' association, of which Mrs. Clark Johnson is president, proved to be one of the most interesting and educational meetings held this year.

Educational talks given by Mrs. Alma J. Danford, librarian, on "Children's Reading" and Supt. Richardson D. White on "American Educational Week" proved to be intensely interesting.

The pupils of Miss Lands room presented a patriotic program, which was greatly enjoyed. This class was awarded the picture last month for having the largest number of mothers in attendance, and at yesterday's meeting it was again awarded to them for another month.

Supt. White extended an invitation to all the mothers to attend the teachers' institute on Monday, which will be in session at the Glendale Union High school.

Mrs. F. E. Olsen of 1120 East Broadway will be hostess to the members on Tuesday afternoon, November 13, when comforts will be tacked for the Welfare Council.

♠ ♠ ♠

Bridge Luncheon

One of the social functions of the week which was attended with much interest and enjoyment, was the bridge luncheon given yesterday by Miss Eva Brehme at her home, 806 South Maryland avenue.

The dinner room was decorated with a profusion of lovely yellow chrysanthemums and greenery. The luncheon table was artistically decorated in an orange and yellow color scheme with yellow bon bon baskets, dainty place cards and tall orange candles.

After the serving of a delicious three-course luncheon, bridge was the diversion of the afternoon, at which Mrs. C. Young was awarded first prize, Mrs. Windt second prize and Mrs. J. A. Munn consolation.

Those present included Mesdames Carry Farrell, Bondeau, G. Kimball, C. Young, R. L. Young, T. J. Keleher, G. West, McClellan, F. Clark, H. E. McCartney, J. A. Munn, Windt, and the hostess, Miss Eva Brehme.

Label League

The Women's Union Label League No. 400 held their regular monthly business meeting last night at the Odd Fellows hall, with the president, Mrs. H. Black, in charge.

At this time Mrs. Jack Hale was initiated into full membership.

During the meeting the president urged all members of the league to patronize Glendale merchants.

Later in the evening the members of the Central Labor Union were invited to join them during the social hour, when refreshments were served.

The next meeting will be held at the I. O. O. F. hall on November 21, it is announced.

Marriage Told

Announcement is made of the marriage of Dean Morrison of 421 West Palmer avenue, Glendale, and Miss Vola Highfield of Hawthorne, at a ceremony taking place last Friday, November 2, 1923, at Santa Ana.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrison were accompanied by Mrs. Morrison's mother, Mrs. Highfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Vallentine of Glendale.

Mr. Morrison is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ed Stout of 421 West Palmer avenue, with whom they will make their home for the present.

FIND RICH VEINS OF COAL IN ERIN

Colleries May Flourish as Result of Discvoeries in Ulster Province.

BELFAST, Nov. 8.—Ulster will shortly have many thriving collieries in her midst, if recent shaft-sinking operations all turn out to be successful.

Previously the six countries have had to import all their own coal, and the possible supply of cheap home-supplied coal is expected to give Ulster's manufacturers and industries a great fillup.

Shafts sunk by Sir Samuel Kelly, millionaire coal importer and shipowner, at Coal Island, County Tyrone, are yielding most promising results, twelve rich seams having been encountered within a depth of 1,050 feet. The seams are in some places 65 feet thick, which is regarded as very promising, due to the fact that in other countries seams at that depth have only yielded two feet thickness of coal.

In adjoining areas twelve additional seams have been located, their thickness varying from four to nine feet. The coal is of good quality, equal to the best Scottish and consists of domestic, gas and steam varieties.

The probable area over which the colliery will be worked will cover about 1,500 feet from the pithead, and it is confidently estimated that the coal shortly reased will amount to 2,000 tons weekly, with a later output of perhaps 1,000 tons a day.

The Government is stated to be greatly interested in the mine and its possible potentialities.

Match Bull Montana With Terrible Swede

Matchmaker Les Marston of the Glendale Athletic club announced this morning that he had signed "Bool" Montana and Charley Olson, "The Terrible Swede," for the main event of his card to be staged Armistice Night, Monday, November 12th.

Charley Olson comes here highly recommended as a mat artist, and has some good wins to his credit. The "Bull" is known to all local fans, and, as there is no time limit to the match, they will probably be greeted by a capacity house.

Several boxing bouts are being lined up to be staged before the head-liner.

Informal Affair

Mrs. C. E. Snively of 106 East Maple avenue was hostess Wednesday at a prettily-appointed luncheon and social afternoon. A color scheme of yellow was carried out in floral decorations and dainty appointments.

Those present were Mesdames Herbert Grey, Raymond Kimball, Albert Pickles, Gus Lavison, Marie Petty, J. E. Foy, Robert McMullin and Wm. Ellers.

FINISH SALVAGE OF SUNKEN GOLD

Over $2,000,000 Retrieved From Lost Liner Laurentic by Wrecking Crew

LONDON, Nov. 8.—With the recovery of practically all of the treasure from the sunken liner Laurentic, the salvage championship between the salvage ship Racer's eight divers is settled.

The championship goes to Seaman "Mickie" Maddison, who has recovered 200 bars of gold, of a total value of over $2,000,000. His nearest rival, Petty Officer Light, only brought up 170 bars.

The Laurentic, which was sunk by mines in 1917, was carrying about $25,000,000 worth of bullion to America, and the Racer has been engaged in salvage operations on her since 1918 with varying success.

During the Summer of 1922 only $3,000,000 worth of gold bars was recovered in five months, but during the past Summer the Racer's divers have recovered something approaching $11,000,000.

Competition among the divers engaged on the wreck has been very keen, but they have had to take turns according to orders and have not been permitted to select their positions. For this reason very often divers have gone weeks without any success coming their way.

Maddison owes his pre-eminence largely to a wonderful day, when, in two descents to the wreck, each lasting an hour, he secured 43 bars of gold.

Salvage operations on the sunken liner will cease at the end of the present month, when the wreckage will be dragged over whether the few remaining bars of gold are lifted or not.

Though she lies twenty fathoms deep the operations have been carried out without a single casualty.

DEATHS---FUNERALS

HENRY RYAN

Henry Ryan, aged father of Harry Ryan, formerly of 332 West Acacia avenue, and now of Highland avenue, passed away at the age of 90 years at the Soldiers' Home, Sawtelle, on Monday, November 5, 1923, as a result of an injury received last Thursday in a fall, fracturing his hip.

The deceased was born in Lancaster, Pa., in 1833, and served three years in the Civil War as private in company D of the Second battalion, Fifteenth regiment of infantry. He was a former resident of Des Moines, Iowa, and had been a resident of Glendale for the past three years.

He is survived by his son, Harry Ryan, with whom he has made his home for the past six years, and several brothers and sisters in Pennsylvania.

Funeral services will be held at the Little Church of the Flowers at 10 o'clock Friday morning, November 9, 1923, with Rev. C. A. Cole of the Central Christian church officiating. Interment will be made at Forest Lawn Memorial park. L. G. Scovern company will be in charge.

MRS. MILLIE PALMER

The death of Mrs. Millie Palmer occurred yesterday, Wednesday, November 7, 1923. She was 65 years of age at the time of her death, and had resided in Glendale several years, coming here from Colton.

Mrs. Palmer was a past matron of the Waukegan chapter No. 207, Eastern Star, of Waukegan, Ill.

She leaves her daughter, Mrs. Mabel Wilber, with whom she resided at 459 West Wilson avenue.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the chapel of the Jewel City Undertaking company on North Brand boulevard.

The burial service in Grand View Memorial park will be in charge of Glen Eyrie chapter No. 237, O. E. S.

MRS. CLOTILDA JOHNS

Mrs. Clotilda Johns passed away Wednesday, November 7, 1923, at a local hospital at the age of 50 years. She was a native of Des Moines, Iowa, and is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Carl E. Marsh of 1233 Lodi place, Hollywood, and Mrs. Peterson of Chicago.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by the L. G. Scovern company.

HENRY SCHREIVER

Funeral services for Henry Schreiver, who passed away November 6, 1923, at a Los Angeles hospital at the age of 81 years, will be held Saturday morning, November 10, 1923, at 11 o'clock at the Little Church of the Flowers, with interment at Forest Lawn cemetery.

Exchangeite Drenched When Bottle of Carbonated Water Goes Off

The Sutton sisters, Lourilla, Beatrice and Lillian, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Sutton of 534 East Windsor road, entertained members of the local Exchange club at their weekly noon luncheon yesterday in Jensen's Egyptian Village, 133 North Brand boulevard, with a number of jazzy songs, "You Gotta See Mama" and others. They were guests of J. C. May.

Roy Strasser, a guest of Peter Neise, sang "The Sunshine of Your Smile," which was interrupted by a loud explosion. The members of the club looked up in consternation to see a dark, rich fluid dripping from the right coat pocket of C. C. Coghlin, chancellor of the exchequer.

When the excitement was over and the broken pieces of the bottle had been removed, they proved to be the remains of one of the little prescription packages placed before each plate at the beginning of the luncheon by L. F. Millet, manager of the Sun drug store in the Jensen building, and containing nothing more stimulating than a certain popular soft drink. The explosion was caused by the inability of the bottle to withstand the strain of carbonated water at 150 pounds pressure to the square inch, under a rising temperature. Nature asserted itself—and Exchangeite Coghlin's suit went to the cleaner's.

TRAFFIC LAW IN EFFECT NOV. 10

Provisions of New Parking Ordinance of Interest to Auto Owners

The amendments to the Glendale traffic ordinance, as passed by unanimous vote of the City Council on October 11, will go into effect Saturday, November 10. The changed ordinance is known as Ordinance 855 and amends ordinance 635, which was passed by the City Council August 7, 1922.

In order that the new provisions of the local law may be known to all residents of the city, they are printed again today in The Glendale Evening News, as follows, and should be clipped and kept for reference:

Section I of the amended ordinance provides that it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to park any vehicle or to cause or permit any vehicle to be parked or to stand on either side of Brand boulevard between the north line of Colorado street and the south line of California street, or on either side of Broadway between the east line of Central avenue and the west line of Louise street, in the city of Glendale, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 6 o'clock p. m. on any day except Sunday or a legal holiday FOR A LONGER PERIOD OF TIME THAN ONE HOUR.

Can't Use Alleys

Parking of cars in public alleys is prohibited under the ordinance as changed. The new law provides that it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to park any vehicle or cause or permit any vehicle to be parked or to stand in any public alley in the city of Glendale; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be deemed to prohibit the standing of vehicles in public alleys for the purpose of and while engaged in loading or unloading merchandise or loads of any kind onto or from such vehicle.

Provisions in the new law relative to parking on public streets and outlining the "parking district," are as follows:

Outlines Districts

It shall be unlawful for the driver of any vehicle to stop the same or cause same to be stopped in or upon any street unless the right front and rear wheels of such vehicle are not more than one foot distant from the curb of such street and headed in the direction of the traffic passing on the side of the street on which the same is stopped; provided, however, that the provisions of this section shall not apply in case of emergency or when such stop is made for the purpose of allowing another vehicle or a street car or interurban railway car or a pedestrian to pass in front of such vehicle so stopped, or when in compliance with an order or signal of a police officer; provided, however, that the provisions af this section shall not be deemed or construed as applyns to any vehicle standing or parked upon the following named streets when such vehicle is standing or is parked at an angle of forty-five degrees with the curb with the front of the vehicle towards the curb and shall be headed in the direction of traffic passing on the side of the street on which the same is standing or parked, with the right front wheel not more than one foot from the curb.

Watch These Streets

On either side of Brand boulevard from the north line of Los Feliz road to the north boundary of the city limits; on the south side of California avenue from the east line of Central Avenue to the west line of Louise street; on the south side of Wilson avenue from the east line of Central avenue to the west line of Louise street; on the south side of Broadway from the west line of Brand boulevard to the east line of Central avenue; on either side of Harvard street from the east line of Central avenue to the west line of Kenwood street; on the south side of Colorado street from the east line of Central avenue to the west line of Kenwood street; on the west side of San Fernando road from the north line of Brand boulevard to the south line of El Bonita avenue; on the west side of Central avenue from the north line of Colorado boulevard to the south line of California street; on the east side of Maryland avenue between the south line of California avenue and a line 200 feet south of and parallel to the south line of California avenue; on the west side of Louise street between the north line of Wilson avenue and a line 200 feet north of and parallel to the north line of Wilson avenue; on the west side of Louise street between the south line of Elk avenue and the north line of Lomita avenue; on the east side of Kenwood street between the south line of Wilson avenue and a line parallel to and 200 feet south of the south line of Wilson avenue; on the east side of Isabel street between the south line of California street and a line 200 feet south of and parallel to the south line of California street; on the east side of Cedar street, between the north line of Broadway and a line 200 feet north of and parallel to the north line of Broadway; on the east side of Central avenue between the north line of Lexington drive and a line 200 feet north of and parallel to the north line of Lexington drive.

Five Pertinent Paragraphs

By Gil A. Cowan

Health and people, two of the most vital topics in the world today, are subjects of editorials we note in contemporary publications. The Glendale Evening News takes great interest in both. Therefore, we are glad to present the views of others, such as is expressed by the Santa Ana Register relative to Children's Chance for Life, which follows:

"What is the safest city in America for a baby to be born in? That is, in what city will it have the best chance for life? According to a report of the American Child Health association for last year, if only the 25 largest cities in the country are considered, it is Seattle. The infant mortality rate there—the yearly number of deaths under one year, for every thousand births—was only 49.

"The Northwest in general shares this proud distinction. Minneapolis and Portland were not far behind, with a mortality rate of 53 and 56 respectively. San Francisco was a close fourth.

"Western states show the best average of cities over 10,000 population, in the following order of distinction: Oregon, Washington, Minnesota, California and Nebraska.

"All this is matter for local pride, and for envy in less fortunate places. More important, however, than any question of sentiment is the question of cause. It would be worth a great deal of inquiry to find out exactly why babies have a better chance in cities and states mentioned than they have elsewhere.

"Some of it, no doubt, is climate; but that cannot be all. Much must have been done by human agencies which other communities could emulate, whatever their climatic or geographic situation."

The San Francisco Chronicle, commenting on recent discoveries, says:

"Dr. Jaworski of Paris is making himself mighty popular with the women of France. He has discovered a process of turning back time in its flight and making the French grandmothers feel, look and act as young as the maids of 20. Of course, the process is not confined exclusively to grandmothers, but has the same pleasing effect on any who are willing to try it. It makes a joke of time and displaces the wrinkles of old age with the bloom of youth.

"The doctor quite likely has succeeded in filling a long-felt want among the women of France, but there would be little call for his discovery in California. Our women have long since stopped growing old. They may use a few artificial means, but that is their business. Mother no longer takes a back seat for daughter, and grandma is just as likely to be the belle of the ball as any 'sweet sixteen' at her prettiest. Her step is as light and her gowns are as chic as the best of them. Years cut no figure with her. She just goes on forgetting them."

Will Rogers, cowboy comedian, made a great hit here in a benefit performance, but perhaps the most trite thing he said was that "he was doing a benefit daily for Messrs. Zukor and Lasky."

Motion picture producers, who perforce must close their plants to lower the wages paid the high salaried stars, deserve a benefit. They have made living standards in the southland so unlivable that a workingman must command a motion picture salary to support his family.

The more people are paid, the more pay they need to pay the grocer, butcher and baker. It is an economic fact that a $25 salary ten years ago was worth more than $50 today. The writer knows from personal experience.

And, while mathematicians or statisticians or their ilk can tell us the dollar today is worth only 65 cents, we have good reasons to believe it is worth less than 50 cents. We ask to know where the $15 suits, the 25 cent dinners, and the nickelodeons have gone?

Yet, would we turn back the pages to the days of 1913? All the jazzbo brothers will vote no.

We borrow some bright ideas from other commentators:

It is said a joker has been found in our speed law that will permit a man to drive as fast as he pleases. There may be such a joker in the law, but some men will not be able to drive as fast as they please until faster cars are made.—Red Bluff News.

Girl Athletes Start Volley Ball Schedule

Inter-scholastic volley ball has now been included in the girls' athletic program at the Glendale High school. Inter-squad and inter-class games have been played off, and the remaining two weeks will be devoted to sets with other schools in and around Glendale.

The high school team won their first game yesterday by a score of 16-6 and 15-4. Their opponents were the first team from the Wilson Avenue Intermediate school. The teams lined up as follows:

High School—Florence Knight (captain), Mary Jo Phillips, Marjorie Graham, Betty Mayberry, Helen Porter, Evelyn Meeker, Pearl Mentzer, Florence Kopp, Erna May Snow, Anna May Monroe (substitute).

Intermediate — Mae McAteer, Norma Faulkner, Naida Taylor, Doris Carver, Josephine Miller, Martha Siberall, Warvel Compton, Chloe Solaver, Esther Untersquill, Hazel Woodhouse, Mildred LaBan (substitute).

Offer Bankrupt Stock at Bargain Prices

A two-day sale of bankrupt stock is announced at the C. F. Graas company, 212 West Broadway, starting tomorrow, Friday, November 9, when linoleum, window shades, rugs, door mats and similar articles will be moved at prices claimed unprecedented here or elsewhere.

"Having purchased the entire L. C. Davis stock at a very low figure," says Mr. Graas, "we are offering the same at remarkably low prices, for cash only. Friday and Saturday, November 9 and 10, are the only two days of the sale. If you have no immediate use for these articles, buy for future needs, as the prices are truly revolutionary."

Breaks Jail While Police Choir Sings

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 8.—While voices of the "police choir" drowned the noise, George Tindell, using a bedslat, battered a hole through the plaster and screen wire wall of the city jail here in an attempt to escape. George was caught as he slipped out of a door of the warden's office by two negro trusties, both of whom received pardons as their rewards.

BREAK DOPE RING

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8.—Federal narcotic agents today said they believed a powerful dope smuggling ring had been broken with the arrest of Pauline Low, her husband, William Low, and John Elkins, who were arrested while en route north from Imperial Valley. A large quantity of morphine was found in the car, the officers said, and it is believed to have been smuggled from Mexico.

DENY FRENCH CONTROL DEMAND

Germany Rejects Allied Plan for Resumption of Military Rule

BULLETIN

WEIMAR, Germany, Nov. 8.—This city was occupied today by Reichswehr. The Berlin government has begun to concentrate Reichswehr troops for the defense of Thuringia against possible invasion by the Bavarians.

(Weimar was the temporary capital of Germany after the 1918 revolution. The new constitution was drawn up there.)

By S. D. WEYER
For International News Service

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—Germany has rejected the French demand for resumption of inter-allied military control by a commission in Berlin "without hindrance from the Berlin government," it was learned from an authoritative source today.

Newspapers expressed the fear that Germany would not be able to protect the allied army officers.

Tension ran high today. The air was filled with rumors of an impending coup. Heavy forces of police patrolled the streets.

The government is attempting to restore the value of money. Official announcement was made that the printing of paper marks would cease on November 15.

Separatists' activity in the Rhine palatinate is increasing.

At Landau separatists have occupied the town hall, municipal council chamber, the Reichsbank building and other structures.

The public buildings in Neustadt were seized by the secessionists.

THREE SPEECHES AT ROTARY CLUB

Moyse, Hewitt and Hunter Entertain Club Members at Weekly Meeting

Three striking addresses marked the weekly luncheon of the Glendale Rotary club at Jensen's Egyptian Village today, the first one being delivered by George U. Moyse, principal of the Glendale Union High school, who defined ethics, morality and spirituality in an impressive manner.

W. E. Hewitt spoke on the approaching Glendale Welfare Chest drive, to be held from November 19 to 24, when a budget of approximately $40,000 will be rased to meet the charitable and welfare needs of the city of Glendale. The budget system, Mr. Hewitt stated, insures the proper spending of the money raised and also cuts the cost of raising the fund from 20 to 30 per cent by eliminating the cost of collection, besides conserving human effort.

Wm. Hunter, of the Glendale Paint & Paper Co., spoke entertainingly of the history and romance of paint.

Visiting Rotarians were J. R. Knapp and Luther G. Reynolds, both of Los Angeles Rotary; and Henry J. Priesen, of Grand Forks, N. D.

State Health Board Warns Against Rabies

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 8—Warning that rabies is not confined to the summer months, but that often it is more prevalent in the winter season, has been issued by the state board of health.

Eleven deaths from rabies have occurred in California since January.

Unless definite action in placing the dog population under control is undertaken in some sections of the state, "the human death toll from this agonizing disease is likely to increase during the coming months," according to a statement issued by the state board of health.

Dragnet Spread for P. E. Train Bandits

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8.—A police and sheriff's dragnet was thrown about southern California today in a hunt for the three masked bandits who, last night, held up and robbed thirty passengers aboard a Pacific Electric Pasadena Short Line car near Valley Junction. Several hundred dollars in money and jewelry is said to have been taken by one of the bandits who held up the passengers while the two others forced Motorman H. W. Dries to bring the car to a slow speed and kept Conductor W. H. Cannon from spreading the alarm.

Premature Blast of Gun Kills Soldier

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 8.—One soldier was killed Monday and several wounded by the premature explosion of shells at Fort Clarence as guns were being fired in celebration of the victory of the Canadian defenders of Blue Nose, in the first race of the international fishermen's series. Pieces of shell showered the Imperial oil works adjoining the fort.

Heads Realtors

Peter Hanson, the new president of the Glendale Realty Board.

HANSON OUTLINES PLANS FOR YEAR

Policies of Realty Board Will Be Settled by Entire Organization

"It shall be my aim to carry out the policies of the Glendale Realty Board as they unfold themselves during the year that I am in office, and these policies must be settled by the entire board and not dictated by myself as president," declared Peter Hanson, elected yesterday as president of the organization by his associates on the board, in a statement following his election.

"As president, my duties are simply those of a presiding officer, whose province it is to follow the suggestions adopted by the board as a whole.

"The enlarged membership of the board brings with it increased opportunities and responsibilities to the entire organization, and the board stands not merely for its own protection and betterment and the advancement of the interests and standards of the real estate profession, but it also stands for the best interests of the City of Glendale as a whole, and I shall exercise every means in my power to advance the welfare of Glendale in cooperation with the Realty Board.

Praises C. D. Thom

"Too high a compliment cannot be paid to Cameron D. Thom for the fair and impartial manner in which he has presided during his term in office, and much of the board's success in the past, and particularly the strengthened good will and fellowship that exist among the members, is directly due to his efforts. Seldom is it given to a man to preside over an organization like this for two years without rousing criticism on some grounds, but Mr. Thom steps out of office with the love and friendship of every member of the organization.

"The Glendale Realty Board is one of the finest groups of men to work with that I have ever known, men of broad vision and with the welfare of their city at heart, and it shall be my aim to carry on the work so ably launched by Mr. Thom. Every member of the board is entitled to a great amount of credit for what has been accomplished, and the fact that it is not and will not be a one man board is the strongest assurance that this work will be continued in the future."

High School Tennis Players Beat Rivals

The representatives of the senior class of the high school were victorious in all their tennis matches yesterday, with the exception of the first singles, which was won by Llewellyn White of the freshmen class, 6-3, 6-3. Tom Woods, Steve Garner and Loren Scovill took second, third and fourth places for the seniors in the order named.

In the doubles, Laird and Woods finished first, beating out Garner and Scovill, also of the class of 1924, for this position.

The final score was 13-4 in favor of the seniors.

Kiwanis Thanks News for Party Publicity

In keeping with the true Kiwanian spirit, the Glendale Kiwanis club has had D. H. Webb, secretary, write a letter of appreciation to A. T. Cowan, owner and publisher of The Glendale Evening News for the publicity given the big Hallowkiwanis party, in celebration of Halloween.

Mr. Webb writes: "Our party was a wonderful success and we are sure that all had a good time, and the officers and directors feel that it was through the assistance that you gave us that they were able to make it the biggest affair of its kind ever staged in Glendale."

MODIFIED HOBBLES

While women of the world are strenuously maintaining they will never return to the "hobble" skirt as a regular thing, the women of Paris are reported wearing a modified hobble skirt, measuring less than a yard and a half around the bottom hem.

WAR SOUVENIRS NOW ON EXHIBIT

Local Store Has Display of Articles Gathered by Glendale Boy

The unique collection of souvenirs from Germany and France, now on exhibit in the window of the Army & Navy store, 201 South Brand boulevard, is loaned through the courtesy of Holman Page Midcalf of Glendale, who collected them while serving overseas with Co. D, 117th Engineers, of the famous 42nd or "Rainbow" division.

"Lest we forget," says a card placed with the exhibit by S. W. Huntington of the store, who states it is their tribute to the boys who went across. Especially appropriate to the approach of Armistice Day, in memory of that unforgettable November 11, 1918, when the order "cease firing" hushed the crash of a million guns, the Midcalf exhibit is well worth anyone's careful attention.

German Weapons Shown

Among the innumerable articles one will find German rifles, pistols, trench daggers, epaulets, gas masks, bayonets, helmets, cartridges, belt buckles, trench tools, boots, flags, handkerchiefs of lace from Paris, together with French theatre programs, maps, post cards, newspapers, travel bulletins, time tables and passports.

Holman Page Midcalf enlisted with the Rainbow Division February 1, 1917, was called into service Friday, April 13 of that year, landed in France November 1, fought through many battles during the war, guarded the Rhine after peace came, returned to America and landed back in Glendale May 10, 1919.

Engineers In Action

Soldier Midcalf states that the 117th Engineers cooperated with the Infantry during the entire period of action, combatting the inroads of spring, with their abundance of mud and water, and in addition wiring new positions to be used in case the Germans demolished the advanced lines the division was holding.

In accomplishing this work, he states, they frequently drew down on them the enemy fire, yet escaped with a minimum of casualties. They took the front in the valley of the Marne between Vitry-le-Francois and Chalons-sur-Marne, remaining four days, when without warning they were transferred to the 4th French Army, commanded by the celebrated General Gouraud, where they took part in one of the most terrific campaigns of the war.

Advance to Rhine

Later they were shifted westward, broke through the River Ourcq, pushed forward to the ridge south of the River Vesle, suppressed the St. Mihiel salient, proceeded to Verdun, took over the front of the 1st Division east of the Varennes-Fleville highroad, pulled the pin out of the Kriemhilde Stellung, advanced to Sedan and marched to the Rhine, which they occupied for many months, as a part of the great Army of Occupation.

This long and varied stretch of soldiering gave Holman Page Midcalf unexcelled opportunities for souvenir collecting, and the exhibit in the Army & Navy store window on South Brand boulevard will bear witness to the fact.

ENGLISHMEN NOW SMUGGLE COGNAC

High Revenue Rates Result in Wholesale Business Along Coast

LONDON, Nov. 8.—Britain has instituted a miniature rum-running business of its own.

Its location is the south coast of England, and the main commodity is French cognac. Before the war this used to cost about $1 per bottle in England, but its present price is now twenty-five shillings, or a little over $6. The increase is mainly due to revenue duty.

The country folk of England regard this as too much to pay and consequently they arrange to import it themselves without interference from revenue officials. There is no particular difficulty along this lonely coast, where the tall cliffs shelter numberless little coves, and the liquor arrives practically unmolested.

In such quantites is the brandy coming in on all kinds of craft that the local farm hand now refuses his native ale and finds it cheaper to drink the French spirit.

Will Ask Coolidge to Urge Filipino Freedom

MANILA, Nov. 8.—The lower house of the Philippine legislature today passed a resolution instructing the presidents of both the house and the senate to petition President Coolidge to include a recommendation in favor of Philippine independence in his next message to congress.

SOPRANO WILL OFFER PROGRAM

Glendale Music Club Will Sponsor Entertainment on Friday Night

Marjorie Dodge, American soprano, will appear tomorrow night in a program before the Glendale Music club at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. Miss Dodge has come west to take part in the presentation of the oratorio, "The Messiah," in December, by the Los Angeles Oratorio society, and Friday night will mark her first program in California.

Assisting her on the program will be William Tyroler, pianist, now director of the Wayfarer chorus. He will play "Farewell" (Schumann-Liszt), and "Waltz Petite" (Benkhard).

Spanish-American War Veterans Will Parade

Glendale's Spanish-American war veterans will form a unit of the Armistice Day parade, it was announced last night at the meeting of the camp in the K. P. hall. Dr. W. C. Mabry, commander, was in charge of the meeting.

Five candidates were initiated, Capt. F. J. Lipstreu, George W. Cole, John Clark, Ralph Handel, Charles S. Vose. Of this number Capt. Lipstreu and Mr. Handel are also veterans of the World War and members of the American Legion.

Dr. Mabry states that all Spanish War veterans are to meet next Monday morning at the corner of Louise and Colorado streets, to fall in line in the parade.

Nomination of officers will take place at the meeting the third Wednesday in November.

The Women's Auxiliary also met last night with Mrs. Mary Hill, president, in charge. During the meeting Mrs. Capitola Brown, was initiated.

Plans are being made for a social meeting November 21, and for a big Christmas party December 6.

Jazz Musicians Will Play Armistice Day

Dance harmony is to be broadcasted Monday night at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse by Don Campbell and his ten-piece jazz orchestra of radioland fame.

They are coming to Glendale to participate in the final big event of Armistice day, the American Legion dance at the clubhouse.

Leroy Fortier, chairman of the big event, is greatly pleased over securing Mr. Campbell and his musicians and is now busy planning special favor dances with attractive prizes.

W. C. T. U. Planning to Aid Needy in Japan

The Women's Christian Temperance Union is planning to take an active interest in the relief work in Japan by collecting a consignment of clothing to be sent to the refugees in the Orient.

Anyone having contributions is asked to send them to Mrs. Ruby J. Smart, president of the Glendale union, at 110 Olive street, or, if they have no way of bringing things to Mrs. Smart's home, a call left with Mrs. Edythe Glassey at Glendale 2656-W will be promptly answered.

A tiger has been known to drag to cover, after a kill in the jungle, an animal weighing over 200 pounds.

COMPLETE PLANS TO HONOR HEROES

Armistice Day Celebration Will Include Parade, Dance and Sports

Reports from the various subcommittee chairmen to the general committee appointed by Glendale Post No. 127 of the American Legion to arrange for the fitting observance of Armistice day, Monday, November 12, at a meeting held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms last evening show that hearty co-operation is being given by practically all organizations asked to participate.

With but few exceptions, every patriotic and several of the fraternal organizations of Burbank, Eagle Rock, Tujunga and Glendale will be represented in the parade starting from the corner of Cedar and East Broadway at 10 a. m. The line of march will be as follows: West on Broadway to Brand, north on Brand to Wilson, south on Brand to Colorado and form on the high school athletic field. Here a very short program will be given, to which the public is invited. Some prominent local speaker will be asked to make a short address. The procession will be led by the Sciots' band, and an effort is being made to get a Los Angeles or fleet band from San Pedro in addition.

Athletic Program

The afternoon athletic program will take place on the high school athletic field. The first event will be a pushball game between a team from the local American Legion post and one to be organized by Coach Hayhurst of the high school. Following this there will be a football game between Glendale and Van Nuys.

In the evening the Legion basketball team will meet a team yet to be selected, at the high school gym,and the day will be brought to a conclusion by a dance at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. A specially selected orchestra will furnish the music for this occasion, and it is hoped that as many Legion men as possible attend in uniform, to lend the dance a military aspect, although everybody in "civies" will be welcomed.

Little Stray Bullet Hits Street Worker

A report was made to the police department yesterday afternoon by W. J. Curren that one of his men, Joseph Kurtz, had been shot while engaged in street construction work at Winchester and Fourth street. The bullet was of a very small calibre, and was evidently fired by some small boys who had been playing in the neighborhood. Kurtz' wound was not serious in any way, and he was able to go to a doctor's office to have the bullet extracted.

German Dictatorship Is Banned by French

PARIS, Nov. 8.—Premier Poincare has instructed the French ambassador at Berlin to notify the German government France will not tolerate a dictatorship, the semi-official newspaper Temps stated this afternoon. The French objection is against a "nationalist dictatorship" as commanded by Bavarians.

Predict Lloyd George Will Seek Premiership

LONDON, Nov. 8.—Former Premier David Lloyd George is due in London tomorrow from his triumphant American trip and predictions were made today that he would plunge into active politics immediately with a view to regaining the premiership. The Welsh statesman has become somewhat of a "man of mystery," owing to his failure to reveal his plans.

A gray sunset predicts a wet day, while a gray sunrise foretells fair weather, according to the U. S. weather bureau.

COMALT

The New Chocolate Malted Milk

COMALT, the famous GLENDALE food-drink product, has become nationally and internationally famous in a shorter period of time than anything of recent years.

Its adaptability for consumption, either hot or cold, its food value, its price and purity all tend to make it a favorite for all members of the family apart from its household uses.

Sooner or later COMALT will be a standard in your household and your favorite at the soda fountain or drug store.

Your local druggist and fountain has COMALT now or can very quickly get it; see that he does it and remember that every time you take COMALT you are helping boost GLENDALE.

VS.

In the cold Northern climates COMALT is being used as a hot drink, in the Southern states as a cold one, and those are the reasons why COMALT took the trade by storm and so thoroughly interested the bottlers all over the country.

Value for money, plus purity, is a thought for consideration with you and you get these when you buy COMALT.

BUSINESS PERSONALS

There are not so many, they are getting few,
That saw the West when the West was new.

I have seen real Indians coming,
I have heard them when they'd yell,
I've seen their shining rifles
When bullets round me fell.
I've thought of my poor mother
Who in tears to me would say
"To you they are all strangers
At home you'd better stay."
But I thought that she was childish,
And that she did not know
My mind was bent on moving
And I thought it best to go.

Perhaps, you have a mother
Likewise, a sister, too,
Perhaps, you have a neighbor
Who will weep and mourn for you.
If this is your condition,
And you think it best to roam,
I'll advise you from experience
It's best to move your home.

Moving buildings is a part of my business;
I move anything but the cess-pool.

Glendale Nationally Advertised by Comalt

HERE'S the booth of the S. W. Brown Co., Inc., of Glendale, as it appeared in Providence, R. I., a couple of weeks ago during the national exposition and convention of the American Bottlers' association.

Through this exhibit and the demonstration made of Glendale manufactured drinks and particularly that of "Comalt" Glendale received much valuable publicity.

Despite the fact that the governors of the two Carolinas were not present, there were, however, two Governors who were. Said the Governor of Rhode Island: "This Comalt is certainly the finest and most delicious drink that I have had since the 18th amendment became effective."

Makes Big Sales

Douglas McKinnon, Glendale representative of the S. W. Brown Co., at the convention, and who has just arrived home, reports that some 372,500 gallons of "Comalt" syrup were sold during the demonstration. The price per gallon approximates $2.50. Every gallon of this syrup will be manufactured in Glendale and bottled under the Glendale label of the local manufacturer.

In addition to the actual sales consummated at Providence there has since been received at the Glendale office of the company more than 350 inquiries and requests for selling rights of "Comalt". Without exception these requests have all come from other bottlers located all over the United States, Canada, Mexico, Hawaiian Islands, and Cuba.

Of interest to Glendale is the fact that wherever "Comalt" is bottled under franchise the label will distinctly state that "Comalt" is a Glendale product.

GLENDALE BEAUTY SHOP ENLARGED

Increasing Clientele Makes Necessary Addition of Special Features

Quality service and work have won wide popularity for the Glendale Beauty Shop at 103-A North Brand boulevard, above the Owl drug store, and Glendale women will be interested in learning that Mrs. C. Salisbury, manager and owner of this exclusive shop, upon her recent return from a trip north began plans for enlarging her shop.

A steadily increasing clientele, bringing a greater volume of business, made these developments necessary, and, in order to provide patrons with the highest in satisfactory service, Mrs. Salisbury took an intensive course in modern facial and hair treatment methods in San Francisco, and has increased her shop staff, being assisted by Miss Ada Burnham, facial and scalp specialist, who also does expert manicuring work; Miss S. Dickman, permanent waving specialist and general operator, and Mrs. Bessie Steelman, marcel specialist and general operator.

Add Space and Equipment

Additional space has been added to the room devoted to facial treatments and to the room given over to shampooing, waving, marceling, curling and scalp treatments.

The most modern in electrical appliances and artistic and practical furnishings have been installed. A specially fine permanent waving machine has just been completely installed for Miss Dickman's use.

Included in the wide range of work done at the shop are such features as radium facial treatments, Dr. Baker's milk pack for bleaching, hair dressing and the iodine hair treatment.

Patrons of the shop have an opportunity to buy anything in the Princess line of cosmetics, and a wide choice is offered in the hair goods in stock. Orders are also taken for special hair work.

LETTER WRITING TAUGHT AT H. S.

English Course for Business People Affords Many Opportunities

The Glendale Union High school is offering a new type of work in English in the evening school which will be of interest to a great many scholars. It is a course in business letter writing and should be taken advantage of by all who wish to improve their ability to write a good letter of this kind.

The classes, which are held in Room 20 under the direction of Paul E. Webb, on Monday and Wednesday evenings at 8 o'clock, take up the following subjects:

1. Considering form of good business letter.
2. How to write letters of recommendation, introduction, application for position, credit, collection, adjustment, sales.
3. Class has been writing letters which have then been discussed and revised with help of instructor.

As the class is small, opportunity is given for individual consideration. As it is yet early in the school year, there are still a few more places open.

WEDDING STAGED AT COUNTRY CLUB

Miss Hester Davis Marries Thomas Bridges Before Admiring Friends

The beautiful Sunset Canyon Country clubhouse formed an artistic setting for the wedding of Miss Hester Davis and Thomas Bridges Saturday night, November 3, 1923. The ceremony was performed at 7:30 o'clock by Dr. Hamilton Lash, pastor of the Hollywood Congregational church.

Miss Davis was attended by Mrs. J. H. Alvord of Hollywood as matron of honor, and two bridesmaids, Mrs. Dorothy Steelman and Mrs. Loretta Schwitters.

Crepe Bridal Gown

Miss Davis wore a bridal gown of white georgette crepe, elaborately embroidered in pearls, and a head-dress of roses and maidenhair fern. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and fern. She entered on the arm of her brother-in-law, A. W. Redfern.

Mr. Bridges was attended by J. H. Alvord as best man.

The ceremony took place in front of the large fireplace, which had been draped with the American flag. A beautiful archway of ferns and roses formed a canopy above the wedding party.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Bridges led the grand march to the banquet room, where a ten-course wedding supper was served. At this time J. H. Alvord, president of the Sunset club, presented Mr. and Mrs. Bridges with a beautiful silver coffee set.

Many Guests Present

The guests present included Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Alvord, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kliebert, Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Schwitters, Dr. and Mrs. C. Stuart Steelman, Mrs. Justina Hautman, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Treemain, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pierce, George McGee and Dr. Hamilton Lash.

Mr. Bridges is secretary and general manager of the Sunset Country club and Mrs. Bridges was formerly social hostess. They both have a wide circle of friends both in Glendale and Burbank.

Realtors Will Be Hosts New Board Members

The new members who were added to the Glendale Realty Board during the drive that ended in October are to be welcomed into the organization at a party that is to be held in the I. O. O. F. hall, on West Broadway, on the night of Tuesday, November 13, and every member of the board, both old and new, is asked by W. L. Truitt, chairman of the drive committee, to keep that evening free for the party.

The affair is to be a free and easy function, with old-fashioned barn dances, card games, and light refreshments on tap all evening, and Mr. Truitt declares that anyone showing up in a dress suit will be shot at sunrise, or as soon thereafter as the governing committee can get the culprit out of bed.

NEW YORKERS VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dwyer and son Leo of Deposit, N. Y., have arrived in the city for an extended visit at the home of Detective Sergeant Blake, 825 East Wilson avenue.

MOTORCYCLE TAXIS

The first motorcycle taxicab has appeared in Paris. It had its first trial recently and the promoters of the innovation expect to put a fleet of 250 into operation to give the idea a fair trial. Theatre-goers are much interested in the hope of cheaper fares.

Exchangeites Sponsor Community Meeting

The second community meeting of the season, to be sponsored by the Exchange club, will be held Tuesday, November 13, in the Glendale Union High school auditorium, at 8 o'clock, when a program of varied features will be presented.

Under the auspices of the Exchange club the Community band is to make its appearance at the meeting Tuesday, and besides the numbers to be rendered by the band, the committees will stage an entertainment that will, it is claimed, make a decided hit with those who attend.

Club members will attend en masse and will conduct the meeting, to which the public is invited.

BLIND WEAR BELLS

Blind men in some of the bigger cities now carry bicycle bells to aid them in their meanderings about the streets. By ringing they attract attention at street corners and get aid in crossing a busy place. The bell is attached to the cane the blind carry.

W. F. Tower Favors Wider Central Avenue

Editor, The Evening News—When Simmons of "Keen Kutter" fame popularized the truth that quality pays ("Quality is remembered long after price is forgotten"), he directed attention to a principle that applies to city building as well as to hardware buying. The two outstanding improvements that impress the newcomer to California are the good paved highways and the commodious school buildings, with their ample playgrounds. For, while they are both high priced, they are, undoubtedly, splendid investments.

For one, I am particularly pleased at the improved type of streets that are being built in Glendale, with the crushed rock base. The lowering of the tracks on South Brand and the widening of Los Feliz road have been decided improvements, and a long felt want is being supplied in the making over of Glendale avenue.

The proposed widening of Central avenue and equipping with an adequate lighting system will also work a marvelous change. There is no question but Central avenue needs widening. It is eight feet narrower than Broadway, and every driver of an auto over Broadway on a Saturday evening has experienced the fact that it is too narrow for either safety or comfort. The proposed widening to sixty-eight feet from curb to curb will be a distinct and permanent improvement, benefiting the entire city and enhancing the abutting and adjacent real estate. To postpone would be a serious mistake.

Singers Rehearsing for 'Elijah' Oratorio

D. Ripley Jackson, Glendale's singing postmaster, shared honors with Spencer Robinson, Glendale's singing mayor, at the meeting last night of the oratorio section of the Glendale Music club at the Glendale High school.

John Smallman, director, was in charge of rehearsing "Elijah," the oratorio to be given in the spring. There were over fifty singers present and Mr. Smallman expresses himself as greatly pleased over the fine work being done.

At the regular weekly meeting next Tuesday night Mr. Jackson is to give a special solo number during the intermission.

SALESMEN'S HATS IN RING TO WIN

Club Members Find Little Work Begets Many Subscriptions

By J. A. MALCOLM
Subscription Club Manager

Their hats are in the ring, and they are in the game with the determination of winning. Such is the declaration heard on every side from the club members who have entered The Glendale Evening News $10,500 salesmanship campaign.

One club member declared today that she never knew how easy it was to get subscriptions until she made up her mind that she was going to give it a good try and go right after the subscriptions in a businesslike manner. That she got them is evident.

As the first period of the campaign is the best one, club members should make the most of it by getting every available subscription while they count for the most credits, for all must realize that at no time later will they receive as many credits for the subscriptions as they will during this, the first period, that ends November 24.

Still Time to Win

Bear in mind that the race is still young. There is not a club member in this campaign—no matter what their total may be at this time—who cannot win out. All it takes is the time and effort to get out and get the subscriptions. The good things in life are not acquired without effort, and those who are easily discouraged will not share in the melon-cutting December 20. Don't let the little matter of a club or two of subscriptions put you down and out.

Now that the standing of the club members is being published from time to time, scores of subscriptions will be volunteered, and you can get the lion's share if you keep in the race and work, for everyone loves to help a winner. You are sure to get your part and perhaps more if you show aggressiveness now.

Show Your Speed

The race has started with a good burst of speed, and if you are one of those who can run the distance without tiring you will be one of those who will surely be on hand when the final counting has been made and walk away with one of the valuable prizes. Bear in mind that your winning does not necessarily depend upon what your friends do for you, but

Rules for Respect and Use of American Flag Provided For Armistice Day Observance

By GERTRUDE GRIFFIN
Mary Jane Gillette Tent, No. 18, Daughters of Veterans

The approach of Armistice Day calls attention to the proper use of, and respect for the American flag. A full code was recently adopted at an American Legion conference held in Washington, D. C. The rules provide that the flag should fly from sunrise to sunset only, or between such hours as designated by proper authority on national and state holidays and historic or special occasions. The flag should always be hoisted briskly and lowered slowly and ceremoniously.

When carried in a procession with another flag or flags, the place of the flag of the United States is on the right, i. e., the flag's own right; or when there is a line of other flags, that of the United States may be in front of the center of that line.

When displayed with another flag, against a wall from crossed staffs, the flag of the United States should be on the right, the flag's own right, and its staff should be in front of the staff of the other flag.

How to Group Them

When a number of flags are grouped and displayed from staffs, the flag of the United States should be in the center, or at the highest point of the group.

When flags of states or cities, or pennants of societies, are flown on the same halyard with the flag of the United States, the flag of the United States must always be at the peak. When flown from adjacent staffs the flag of the United States should be hoisted first. No flag or pennant should be placed above or to the right of the flag of the United States.

When flags of ten or more nations are to be displayed, they should be flown from separate staffs of the same height, and should be of equal size.

When displayed from a staff projecting horizontally or at an angle, the union of the flag should go completely to the head of the staff, unless the flag is at half-staff.

Union Uppermost

When a flag of the United States is displayed other than flown from a staff, it should be displayed flat. When displayed either horizontally or vertically against the wall, the union should be uppermost, to the flag's right, that is, to the observer's left. When displayed in a window, it should be displayed the same way, i. e., with the union or blue field to the left of the observer in the street. When festoons or draperies of blue, white and red are desired, bunting should be used, but never the flag.

When displayed over the middle of the street, as between buildings, the flag should be suspended vertically with the union to the north in an east-and-west street or to the east in a north-and-south south street.

Behind Speaker

When used on a speaker's platform, the flag should be displayed above and behind the speaker. It should never be used to cover the speaker's desk. If flown from a staff, it should be on the speaker's right.

When used in unveiling a monument or statue, the flag should not be allowed to fall to the ground, but should be carried aloft.

When flown at half-staff, the flag is first hoisted briskly to the peak, and then lowered to the half-staff position, but before lowering the flag for the day it is raised again to the peak.

On Memorial Day, May 30, the flag is displayed at half-staff from sunrise until noon, and at full staff from noon until sunset.

When used to cover a casket, the flag should be placed so that the union is at the head and over the left shoulder. The flag should not be lowered into the grave or allowed to touch the ground.

When the flag is displayed in church, it should be from a staff placed on the congregation's right as they face the clergyman.

Destroy Reverently

When a flag is in such a condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, it should not be cast aside or used in any way that might be viewed as disrespectful to the national colors, but should be destroyed as a whole, preferably by burning or some other method in harmony with the reverence and respect owed to the emblem.

"Do not use the flag as drapery; use bunting," says one of the "dont's," as others bar its use as covering for a ceiling, as a part of a costume, or athletic uniform, embroidered upon cushions, hand-

AUTO PROSPECTS SPEAKER'S THEME

Motives Prompting Purchase Of Cars Dissected by Luncheon Speaker

Different types of prospective automobile buyers were classified by Robert Marshall, field representative of the Greer-Robbins Company of Los Angeles, Southern California distributors of Chalmers and Hupmobile cars, in an address before the Glendale Motor Car Dealers' Association at the regular meeting of the association in Jensen's Egyptian Village yesterday.

Mr. Marshall divided the prospects into several clearly defined classes, and gave the dealers a number of valuable pointers as to the best methods of approach, depending on the character and the leanings of the prospects. He also touched on the motives that lead to the purchase of automobiles, listing these under the heads of price, utility, pride, caution and weakness, the last named being that characteristic that succumbs to the blandishments of a high-powered salesman without first investigating the merits of his proposition.

C. H. Hunter, president of the organization, occupied the chair.

Used Car Plan

A communication from the National Automobile Dealers' Association dealing with a method of handling used cars was read, the letter stating that the plan is in active and successful operation in Cleveland, Ohio, but the association felt that more detailed information is necessary before any definite steps are to be taken to adopt the system here, and a request will be made for further facts concerning the plan.

The membership committee was instructed to prepare a letter of greeting to be sent to each new automobile dealer who enters business here, setting forth the objects of the association and making the newcomer welcome to Glendale.

PLAN DISPLAY AT ARCADIA EXHIBIT

Realty Board Committee to Show City's Products At Exposition

Glendale will be represented in the exposition that is to be held at Arcadia from November 27 to December 1, according to a decision reached at the weekly meeting of the Glendale Realty Board yesterday, when William S. Kirk reported for the committee that had been appointed a week ago to investigate the proposed exposition. A Glendale exhibit, the character of which is to be determined by the committee, will be prepared and displayed at the Ross balloon school at Arcadia.

L. H. Myers was appointed as a representative of the board to attend the meeting that has been called by the Hollywood Hills Association for November 16, to discuss plans for a comprehensive system of fire prevention and protection for all this region.

New certificates for the members of the Glendale Realty Board are now ready for delivery to the various firms in the organization by the secretary, Miss Winnifred Traver, and can be had on application at the offices of the board in the Central building.

Close Armistice Day

The offices of the members of the board will be closed on Monday, November 12, when Armistice Day is to be observed.

W. L. Twining requested that the board contribute to the funds that are being raised to pay for a float to be entered in the Pasadena Tournament of Roses on January 1, 1924, asking that $500 be raised as the board's share. The members agreed to contribute this amount, to be raised among the 117 members of the board, by a committee.

In retiring from the office of president, after the election of Peter Hanson, C. D. Thom expressed his deep appreciation of the support that has been shown him during the two years he has held the office of president, dwelling on the friendships that he had formed during that time and promising his unstinted support to the new president and the other officers who were elected yesterday.

Art instruction is practically unknown in schools of Turkey, but it is expected that water-color painting will be taken up in the near future.

Memories of Napoleonic Court Recalled Here by Widow of American Consul

By KATHERINE V. SINKS
Of the Evening News Staff

Presentation to the brilliant Parisian court of Napoleon the Third, nephew of Napoleon the Great, in the early '60s, and memories of the beautiful Princess Eugenie, are happy recollections of Mrs. Ellen Beaumont Murphy, who resided for forty years in Germany, and today at the age of 93 is living at the Golden West Sanitarium at 1104 East Windsor road, and is being enrolled as an honored member of The Glendale Evening News Sunset club.

Born in Lyons, Wayne county, New York, July 2, 1830, Ellen Beaumont resided during her girlhood in that state. She belonged to a family prominent throughout the state. One of her grandfathers, Myron Holley, was one of the commissioners in charge of building the Erie canal.

Father Chum of Van Buren

Her father was a boyhood and school chum of Martin Van Buren and together they got their lessons by a dim light from burning pine knots, for they were not rich enough to buy candles. As the years passed both boys grew to manhood, one to become president of the United States and the other to acquire a vast fortune.

When Ellen Beaumont was a girl she was taught by a governess, and at the age of thirteen she was sent to boarding school in Utica, N. Y.

Later the family moved to Michigan, and there she was married to William Walton Murphy, well known young lawyer, who was appointed during the presidency of James Buchanan as American consul general over the four free Hanseatic cities, Frankfort, Hamburg, Lubeck and Bremen, Germany. During two presidential administrations he served abroad in this capacity and later engaged in private business.

Crosses Atlantic 30 Times

Mrs. Murphy lived for forty years in Germany, and Mr. Murphy died at Heidelberg and is buried there. She has crossed the Atlantic ocean thirty times.

Frankfort-on-Main was the beloved home of the Murphys for many years, and it is with pride that Mrs. Murphy shows a beautiful diamond ring presented to her by the city. They were in residence there when the city lost its liberty to the Prussians in 1866.

One outstanding social event recalled by Mrs. Murphy is a dinner party at the Rothschild home, where the table for the adults was set with dishes of solid gold, and the table for the children with dishes of solid silver.

Another memory treasured by Mrs. Murphy is a friendship with Mrs. Abraham Lincoln, whom she knew after the assassination of President Lincoln. She also knows the son, Robert Lincoln, who is still living, and whom she declares a fine gentleman.

With a quick, light step, alert mind, gracious manner and sweet, soft voice, Mrs. Murphy looks perhaps seventy years of age. She is interested in affairs of the present day and delighted to reminisce of the many interesting years she has lived.

"I am not a suffragist," she declared when asked her views on woman suffrage. "I believe that woman's place is in the home."

Has Hopes for Germany

In telling of her life in Germany Mrs. Murphy's eyes lighted up as she said: "I love Germany, for I lived there so many years and know the people so well. The country is in a wretched condition now, but I firmly believe that it will be a great republic some day."

Mr. and Mrs. Murphy had one son, who died at the age of six years, so that Mrs. Murphy is now alone, save for a sister, Mrs. Graham of Los Angeles, and a nephew in Pasadena.

Mrs. Murphy has been in Glendale only six weeks, but says she loves Glendale and California, and those who have come in contact with her return the compliment most heartily.

REALTORS COMING FOR CONFERENCE

Regional Meet Will Discuss Matters of Interest at All Day Meeting

Realtors from almost every board in the state will be in Glendale on Saturday, November 17, to attend the first regional conference called by Charles B. Guthrie, vice-president of the California Real Estate Association for the seventh district, according to information reaching Mr. Guthrie following his announcement of the date of the meeting.

In a brief address before the Glendale Realty Board at its weekly meeting in Jensen's Egyptian Village yesterday Mr. Guthrie urged every member of the Glendale board to assist in making the coming conference one of the notable events in the history of the California real estate profession by co-operating in the welcome to the visiting delegates and in extending to them the hospitality to which they are entitled.

Outlines Program

The first half of the day, from 9 a. m. till noon, will be devoted exclusively to a discussion of the multiple listing system, and immediately following the luncheon, which will be marked by one keynote address and possibly by several one-minute talks, the visitors will be taken for an automobile ride around the city, after which the conference will again assemble for a discussion of matters of interest to the profession, among which will be the mechanics' lien law and the fees for foreclosure on minor liens on real estate.

Mr. Guthrie urged his associates on the board to get acquainted with the visiting realtors and to cultivate their friendship, not only for the benefit that such a course would be to them as realtors, but also for the reputation for hospitality it would confer on Glendale.

TODAY—Paris Notes and News.

By ALICE LANGELIER,
For International News Service

PARIS, Nov. 8.—A symbol of flame has been proposed for the Unknown Soldier's grave under the great Arc de Triomphe at the Etoile. It has been suggested that a flame be kept burning night and day, a vestal light as a symbol of sacrifice and eloquent tribute to the dead—a flame that never dies. The grave of the French Unknown Soldier has made the famous Arc more than one of the most beautiful monuments in the French capital. It has now become a place of pilgrimage to which representatives of every visiting nation turn to pay silent tribute. The spot has almost become sacred ground.

From now on you can ride all by your lonesome in the little monoplane taxis which have just appeared on the Paris streets. They are sprightly little vehicles, smaller, but powerful enough for riding about the city, and, what is more important, they are 50 per cent cheaper than the larger ones. It has been found that 80 per cent of the persons who engage taxis are alone, and there is therefore little need of so many large ones taking up space on the too-crowded streets. Only thirty of these small ones have appeared so far, but hundreds are promised for the end of the year.

"Yes, I shall not get married today," sang Coulanges-Thousauris before his trembling bride, Germaine Fardeau, and all her attendants who were waiting in the little church of Brie for the priest to perform the solemn ceremony. The wedding bells were ringing out when the father of the future husband called him to one side and spoke a few words into his ears. Just what he said no one knows, but it was of such importance that the bridegroom then and there renounced his marriage, offering to pay all the expenses of the ceremony, even to reimbursing the wedding guests who had come from a distance by train.

No smoking allowed—by the women. This means on the terraces of certain large cafes in the Opera district. They can smoke as much as they like inside, but not out in the fresh air, where the people really want to remain and watch the Paris world go by.

Attendance at the Sorbonne, the Paris university, dropped during the academic year which ended July 3, 1923, according to the figures just published. The enrollment for the year 1922-23 was 21,376 as against 21,612 for the year before. The greatest decrease was in the number of foreign students, probably because of the return of many "hangovers" from the war who could not leave the gay city.

A Frenchman was the first millionaire in the land of dollars, according to "L'Excelsior." His name was Stephen Girard, a poor sailor who grew tired of the sea and put into port at Philadelphia, where he became a wine merchant. That was in 1772. He was a thrifty Frenchman, and the time was not long before he had enough savings to found a boat-building enterprise. His boats had a great reputation for their speed and stability, and in a short time he was flooded with orders. In 1823 the little French wine merchant possessed ten millions of dollars, which he bequeathed upon his death to various works of charity.

Another Enoch Arden came back to his home in Saint Flor last week to find that his wife was no longer his. Jean Flout became a soldier several years ago and apparently went off and forgot his wife. Having heard nothing from Jean for such a long time, madame decided that she was a widow and became the wife of another man and subsequently the mother of two children. The other day Jean came back.

Autumn strollers in the Bois de Boulogne realize that the famous deer have gone the way of many good old things. Only about forty are left. They are the descendants of the original ones placed in the Bois by Napoleon III. The first herd was eaten by the starving cummunards in 1871. In 1897 seven more hinds and a stag were put in, but their ranks have been greatly thinned by the numerous motor cars in the woods. The old keeper who feeds them says there will be no more in twenty years. The bright lights of the cars dazzle their eyes and make them fall easy victims to the motorists.

Timely Views on World Topics

WALTER W. HEAD

Country bankers are pleased over the fact that there has just been elected as president of the American Bankers' association a man who was born and raised on a farm and who today is not only the head of a great banking institution which does business in many States, but who owns a 2,200-acre farm near St. Joseph, Mo., and is a practical farmer. Walter William Head, who was advanced from first vice president to president of the association at the forty-ninth annual convention held in Atlantic City recently, was born in Adrian, Ill., received a normal school and business college education and for several years was a country school teacher. He left teaching in 1903 to go into banknig. He became cashier of the Dekalb, Mo., State Bank and from 1906 to 1908 was state and national bank examiner. In 1908 he became cashier of the American National Bank of St. Joseph, Mo., remaining there until 1917. In that year he was elected vice president of the Omaha National bank and became its president in 1920, which position he holds today.

WALTER W HEAD

Mr. Head is also president of the Omaha Safe Deposit Company and vice president of the American National Bank of St. Joseph and of the St. Joseph Life Insurance Company. He is also a director of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Company.

LOSE YOUR FAT, KEEP YOUR HEALTH

Superfluous flesh is not healthy, neither is it healthy to diet or exercise too much for its removal. The simplest method known for reducing the overfat body easily and steadily is the Marmola Method, tried and endorsed by thousands. Marmola Prescription Tablets contain an exact dose of the famous Marmola Prescription, and are sold by druggists the world over at one dollar for a case. Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE SQUEAKE

"Toot! Toot!" blew a horn outside the hollow stump bungalow of Uncle Wiggily Longears.

"That must be company coming!" said Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy. The muskrat lady housekeeper opened the door, and, looking out, saw the rabbit gentleman himself sitting in his automobile.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily! I thought you were company!" laughed the muskrat lady, as Mr. Longears again honked his horn.

"Well, I'm going to treat you like company and take you for a ride," spoke the bunny gentleman, with a low and polite bow of his pink, twinkling nose. "I haven't been autoing in some time, and after our fun at the Halloween party last night I thought an auto trip would be just fine."

"It would, and I'd like to go," answered Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy, "but I must bake a cake, do some sweeping and dusting, and then make a new dress."

"Oh, my goodness!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "Well, I'll wait for you. And while I'm waiting I'll ride around a bit and see if perhaps I can't have an adventure."

"Very well," said Nurse Jane.

So Uncle Wiggily started off in his automobile, wondering what sort of an adventure he would have.

All of a sudden, as the bunny gentleman was driving along, he heard a voice sadly calling:

"Help! Help! Oh, who will help me out?"

"Who are you and what do you want to be helped out of?" asked Uncle Wiggily, as he stopped his machine.

"I'm a turtle and I want to be helped out of the mud where I am stuck," answered the voice.

Looking down at the side of the road, Uncle Wiggily saw a puddle in which was stuck a big mud turtle.

"How did it happen?" asked the rabbit gentleman kindly.

"Well, you see this puddle half froze in the night," explained the turtle. "That made the mud so sticky I couldn't pull my legs out, nor my tail. So I'm stuck and I don't know what to do."

"I'll help you," offered the bunny gentleman. But why did you go in the mud puddle and get frozen fast?"

"I live here," answered the turtle. "As soon as it gets a little colder I am going to dive down to the bottom and bury myself in the deep, soft warm mud. There I will sleep all winter. But it is too early for that yet. Oh, dear! I'm stuck!" cried the turtle.

"I'll soon have you out," offered the bunny. So he tied a grape vine rope around the turtle's shell and fastened the other end of the vine to the automobile. Then the rabbit gentleman started his machine off down the road, and soon he had pulled the turtle from the mud puddle.

"Oh, thank you!" murmured the turtle. "Now I am all right."

"Good!" said Uncle Wiggily, as he started off again. "That was one adventure and perhaps I may have another before it is time to take Nurse Jane for a ride."

The rabbit gentleman had not ridden very far before he noticed that the springs of his machine were squeaking and squawking.

"Some water must have splashed on my springs from the turtle's puddle," thought the bunny. "I must have my springs greased. I'll do it tomorrow."

So he rode on, but the springs continued to squeak more and more, and Uncle Wiggily was thinking of stopping in a garage when, all of a sudden, down out of a tree under which he drove dropped down the Bad Bob Cat.

"Ah, now I have caught you!" cried the Bob Cat, sitting close to Uncle Wiggily on the seat of the auto. "I have you. Drive at once to the den of the Fox so that he and I may nibble your ears."

"Oh, dear! All right!" sighed Uncle Wiggily. So he drove himself and the Bob Cat along, the springs squawking worse all the while.

"What's that noise?" asked the Bob Cat.

"It's a Squeaker under my car," answered the rabbit gentleman. He meant the squeak in his springs, of course.

"A Squeaker under your car. Come, that won't do!" howled the Bob Cat. "Here I go to the work of catching you and a Squeaker jumps under your car to get a ride. Maybe that Squeaker will want some nibbles off your ears. But he shan't have any! Stop the car!"

"What for?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"So I can get down and drive that Squeaker—whoever he is—out from under," growled the Bob Cat. "No Squeaker can play tricks on me."

Uncle Wiggily stopped the auto. Out got the Bob Cat, and as he began to crawl under the machine to drive out the Squeaker—who, he thought, must be some bad animal—all of a sudden Uncle Wiggily stepped on the gas.

"Whizz! Bang!" Away rolled the auto, knocking the Bob Cat down and leaving him turning somersaults in the road.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed the bunny gentleman. "I fooled you with my spring Squeaker; didn't I?" And so the rabbit gentleman saved his ears and took Nurse Jane for a fine ride after some grease was put on the squeaking springs.

Now, if the apple pie doesn't try to jump through the hole in the fried cake, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Jack Frost.

On the Spur of the Moment

By ROY K. MOULTON

THE NEWSPAPER POET COURTS THE MUSE

Let's see, we must grind out a verse
That's full of sentiment, yet terse,
On , love—love—"shove"? Oh good gosh, no!
Ah—"stars above"—that ought to go.
"Love—stars above"—that fits in fine,
Now what's to do for the next line?
A girl's name—Mary—Edith—Floy—
"Coy," "joy"—ah, baby, atta boy!
It's coming—now, what next to say?
(Must get to see the Giants play.)
"My darling"—no, takes too much time
To coin polysyllabic rhyme.
"My dear"—that's not so awful hot,
But easy—that's five lines—now what.
Dear, "Clear," of course, and then "your eyes"
(Must get eyes in.) Ah—"azure skies."
Six—seven—eight—got 'em all in.
Now—umm—ah—er — where to begin?
Lass, may I tell thee of my love
That shines for thee (or is it thou) like stars above?
My Mary (no, darn it), My Floy, my beauteous, charming Floy,
One look from you is heaven's joy.
(That went all right.) My dear, my very only dear,
Your gaze, so cool, serene and clear,
From out those lustrous, beaming eyes (oh, man!),
Far clearer (no, used clear before), Far clearer they than azure skies.
Hm! Pretty rotten, still it might Get by. Let's quit. Call it a night.

YOU LEARN BY THE MOVIES—

That the West is peopled exclusively by big, two-fisted, silent, strong he-men who have a respect for a good woman that is almost painful; depraved owners of low gambling resorts, simple-minded girls who have the fiend's own luck in getting out of tight situations unscathed in character, and dance hall habitues who invariably develop an unexpected streak of human kindness along toward the end.

That no comedian can be funny without being on the verge of breaking his neck practically all the time.

That there are only two kinds of mothers—small, humble ones who have thin gray hair and spend most of their time sitting in windows waiting for somebody, and society dames who wear pompadours and are of imposing stature.

That no virtuous woman ever smokes cigarettes through a holder.

That mobs always show anger by shaking their right fists in the air in unison.

That all southerners over forty wear goatees and were wealthy befo' the wah, suh.

That no hero has the brains of a roach, but that all can go through any sort of an adventure without spraining their patent leather locks.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

WORMS, No. II.

Treatment

For the tape worms and round worms strong medicines have to be given, on a fasting stomach. As these medicines are not without danger, you must see your physician for this treatment. The pin worms can be home treated, so I will tell you about those.

Once a day give an injection in the rectum of a solution made of two ounces of quassia chips boiled in a quart of water for twenty minutes, adding sufficient water from time to time to keep it to a quart. Inject a cupful of this, warm; and after it is expelled use another cupful.

You can give a good cathartic, preferably castor oil, in the beginning.

The chief reason pinworms—the most common worms of childhood—are so difficult to get rid of is because, with children particularly, there is not absolute cleanliness. When they go to the toilet, they do not always wash their hands afterward, and in wiping or scratching themselves they contaminate their hands with the worm eggs—hundreds of them. (The eggs are microscopic and cannot be seen without the aid of a microscope.)

These eggs are then often conveyed to their mouths directly or to the foods which they handle. They are swallowed and a new hatch comes on. The mothers and others who take care of wormy children have to be very careful. They'll get them, too, for the same reason.

To prevent round worms, see that all fruits and vegetables eaten raw are thoroughly washed and that foods are not handled by persons affected, unless they are scrupulously clean.

The Prevention of Tape Worms

First: Careful Government inspection of meat at the slaughter houses. You should also personally inspect all meat in the home. Discard any that has little foreign-looking specks in it. It is called "measly" beef and pork.

Second: Thoroughly cook all meats, even smoked and salted meats, in case some infected meats should get by the inspectors.

Third: Disposal of feces (bowel movements) of those having tapeworms so that cattle and hogs do not have access to it.

Fourth: Become a vegetarian if you like. Some experience better health on a vegetarian diet. Others do not. Personally, I favor a mixed diet and a good inspection service in my health department.

A whole book could be written on worms (I'm going to write one some time; it is a most fascinating subject) but here, of course, I can only teach a little something so that you will know the cause of them and can in this way prevent them.

If your child has tape or round worms, for which worm medicine must be given, he should be under the supervision of a physician because worm medicines given without supervision are dangerous.

A child who has worms is very liable to be under-nourished and have all the train of symptoms that under-nourishment means.

There is no special diet for the children with worms. You have to oust the worms, and then the diet should be the same as for any child.

TRIMMINGS MAKE THEMSELVES EVIDENT

Lace, buttons, braid and ribbon are among the leading garnitures of the season, and when they appear on a dress or blouse they make themselves as evident as simplicity will allow. In the frock of gray silk crepe to the left, the lace panels and vest with attached collar are of the same shade of gray, and constitute the distinctive features of the model. The girdle is of crepe rolled with self-color Georgette. Medium size requires 3 yards 40-inch crepe and 2 yards of all-over lace 12 or more inches wide.

Buttons and braid add trigness to a frock of beige twillcord, such as is pictured to the right. The dress closes at the right side of the inserted vestee, which has a V-shaped upper edge. The sleeves may be long and finished with cuffs, or cut off above the elbow and bound with self-material. Medium size requires 4¼ yards 36-inch material and 2¾ yards braid.

First Model—Pictorial Review Dress No. 1521. Sizes, 34 to 46 inches bust. Price, 35 cents.

Second Model—Dress No. 1542. Sizes, 34 to 52 inches bust. Price, 35 cents.

Beauty Chats

by Edna Kent Forbes

A NEW ASTRINGENT

The other day I had a face treatment which I really enjoyed; in fact, one of the few face treatments that I ever have enjoyed. I am always looking for new things and always ready to try out new methods, though I must confess with never much hope of discovering any new short cut to beauty.

There is a certain little common sense woman who runs a small and not very smart beauty shop. She started business with one customer who was a friend, and was so good that all the friends of that friend and all their other friends who could be accommodated soon came to her and now keep her busy all day long.

It was said she was trying a new astringent. I had a face treatment and permission to talk as much as I pleased about the new astringent, which is nothing but coarsely powdered oatmeal made into a thick creamy paste with cold water.

After the massage the skin is quite oily because of the thick cream that has been rubbed into it, and overheated as the result of the hot cloths and the massage.

At the end of the treatment, while the face was still thickly smeared with cream, the usual cloth wrung from hot water was used to wipe off all the surplus greasiness, then this oatmeal cream, as she called it, was smeared all over the skin. It felt deliciously cold at first, and the skin felt oddly stimulated while it was on. It was wiped off with a soft cloth wrung from cold water, and the skin was then ready for powder.

In the case of a very oily complexion still another astringent would have been used, but in ordinary cases this oatmeal paste was quite enough. As it cools the skin it is also very nice for red blotches and temporary eruptions due to stomach trouble. It would also, she told me, be excellent for red, over-heated skins in the summer time.

Vista, Jessie M., Elaine G. S., Discouraged One, E. D. V., Dolly, Bee, Constant Reader, Miss G. E., Lottie S., Kate B., K. M. G.: Enlarged pores, especially if the skin is oily, will lead to blackheads, so while you are clearing the skin correct the condition causing the oiliness. Usually this is caused by faulty elimination. If the case is a mild one it can be relieved in a few weeks by daily treatments of holding hot wet cloths over the skin for a few minutes.

Rub into the pores a cleansing cream to dissolve the soil, and then scrub with a complexion brush, using hot water and soap. Rinse in cool and then very cold water in which there are a few drops of benzoin.

In a bad case of blackheads, in the place of soap use the following powder: Mix together two ounces of corn starch, one ounce of almond meal and one ounce of borax. Dampen and rub into the soiled pores. After such treatment the skin will need to be soothed by using a cream or olive oil on it, after which the pores should be closed by an ice rub, or, if that is not convenient, substitute very cold water.

Tomorrow—Baths.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes, in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Who's Who in the Day's News

BAD CONDITIONS IN EUROPE DUE TO HATRED AND COVETOUSNESS, SAYS SENATOR

That abnormal conditions in Europe would soon be righted if the natitons would give up hatred and covetousness, is the opinion of Kenneth McKellar, U. S. senator from Tennessee, who recently returned from abroad. Says Mr. McKellar:

SEN. K. McKELLAR

"The economic situation in Europe is anomalous — splendid crops, trade and commerce good, cost of living and transportation low, industries running. Yet if the various nations were resolved on peace, if they did not covet one another's territory, if they wanted to do right by one another, if they did not hate one another, if they were not bent on war, normal conditions soon would be restored.

"The German industrialists are exploiting the German people, while the French are at the same time occupying German territory, without authority other than force. Of course, this leaves Germany in a bad state.

"In Russia the Government is chained to communistic fallacies, thus retarding the restoration of that great country.

"Poland is exceedingly prosperous, has abundant crops and her factories are everywhere running, but fears the Russians on one side and the Germans on the other, and so its condition is one of doubt and uncertainty.

"Austria also is prosperous, Vienna especially so, and but for political conditions her economic position would soon be destroyed.

"In France the people are more prosperous perhaps than they have ever been in their history. They have abundant crops and everybody is at work; they have no unemployed and wages are high, but their trouble is an insane desire to acquire more territory and to take Imperial Germany's place and become the supreme military power of the world.

"It is doubtful whether France wants Germany to pay reparations. From what I saw over there I am rather inclined to believe she much prefers to hold the German territory she now has and to secure other German territory which she covets. The German people are under the domination of criminal industrialists, and the greatest confusion exists in that country. Italy has gone mad over Mussolini, and he, drunk with power, wants to acquire the territory of his neighbors; and, so, with this kind of a leader, Italy is likely to be thrown into war at any time.

"Great Britain, conservative always, is having the hardest time getting along. She has more than a million unemployed, and conditions are not good, but she has a conservative government, and such a conservative people that it is only a question of time when she will work out her troubles.

"Spain has had a revolution, but the king seems to have joined the revolutionists and no serious harm was done.

"The Baltic countries are all prosperous and contented."

PRESIDENT TSAO KUN

Thirty-five years ago Tsao Kun was a common "buck private" in the Chinese army. Today he is Marshal Tsao Kun, president and military director of the Chinese republic.

MARSHAL TSAO KUN

He was elected recently to succeed Li Yuan Hung, who fled from Peking three months ago when the situation there became threatening. Li Yuan Hung still claims to be the legal president, but lacks power to back up the claim.

Tsao Kun is 60. At 25, when he was a common soldier in the Chinese army, an officer, attracted by the qualities of leadership displayed in the young man, arranged for him to be sent to a military school. Later he directed a training school for soldiers of the old Manchu court; then became successively regimental, brigade and division commander.

In 1911 he aided in suppressing the first revolution in Chili province. In 1915 he offered unsuccessful opposition to General Tsao Ao, the restorer of the republic, who was fighting the imperialistic movement of Yuan Shih Kai.

Tsao Kun then was made military governor of Chili. In 1917 he was commander of the troops of several provinces in the war against the south.

The small girl or woman is particularly lucky. For she may wear more conspicuous clothes than the tall or stout woman. The following sweater will look well on her:

KNITTED SWEATER WITH CHECKED FRONT (Size 34 to 36)—Materials: Ten balls of buff and two balls of brown Shetland Floss, one pair of number four and one-half knitting needles, one pair of number one knitting needles.

Back: With buff, and number four and one-half needles, cast on 96 sts. K 7, p 1 and repeat until there are eight rows of ribbing. Now K 1, p 1 row alternately until work, from cast-on edge, measures 17 inches. Bind off four sts. at beginning of each of the next two rows, 88 sts. remaining. Decrease one st. at each end of each knitted row, until four sts. have been narrowed off at each side, 80 sts. on needle. Work even for five inches. Bind off five sts. at beginning of each row, until 20 sts. remain. Bind off these 20 stitches for back of neck.

Front: With buff and number four and one-half needles, cast on 62 sts. and K 1, P 1 for eight rows. Tie in the brown yarn and work in checked pattern, as follows: K 2 with buff, carrying brown along behind sts. K 2 with brown, carrying buff along behind sts. Repeat these four sts. to end, always carrying color not in use along behind sts. and taking care to keep the threads not in use just long enough to keep work from drawing in, without making it too loose. Second Row: P, working brown sts. with brown, buff with buff, always carrying thread not in use along in front of sts.

Third row: Work like first row, but begin with brown, to reverse checks. Fourth row: work like second row, but begin with brown. Repeat there four rows, until front from first checked row, measures five inches; last row P. Make pocket opening as follows: Work along row as usual, for 18 sts. With buff bind off next 26 sts., and work as usual in checks, to end of row. In next row cast on 26 sts., with buff, to replace those cast off in preceding row. (The other half of these directions will appear tomorrow.)

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young married woman, 23 years of age. I love my husband dearly and I am sure he loves me. We would be very happy together only he has an extremely jealous nature. He thinks I am interested in other men even when I am not. He also thinks they are interested in me when they haven't given me a thought.

All summer we have had good times with another married couple, but now our fun is spoiled because he believes the other man to be in love with me. I am so ashamed because I know there is nothing in it. It is such a foolish thing that I cannot explain to his wife why we no longer want to go to their house or have them come to ours.

There doesn't seem to be anything I can do to cure my husband. It seems to be his only fault, and he does many things for me which no other husband thinks of. On our wedding anniversary he sent me flowers, and, although men are supposed to do that, I have not seen many do it. He is also very kind and thoughtful and seems to think I am the best wife in the world.

What would you advise me to do about our friends? I have explained to my husband that the other man has not done the first thing which would indicate an interest in me. He won't believe me, though, and although he tries not to be jealous I can see that he is perfectly miserable in the presence of the other people.

MISUNDERSTOOD WIFE.

You show great consideration for your husband's feelings, a thing which I think you should do since he is so good to you and there is so much love between you. Perhaps if you ask him to trust you more and then you avoid any situations that would look intimate with the other man your husband will be more reasonable and willing to continue your friendly relationship with the other couple. In case he is utterly unreasonable, however, you might just as well make excuses as tactfully as possible to your old friends and look for new ones.

Jealousy is a terrible thing. It makes the jealous person suffer so much and places the loved one in an unreasonable position most of the time. Tact and patience are your only weapons to fight it.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am 14 years old and have entered high school. There is a boy there who seems to like me very much. He has asked me to go to the movie with him some night. I would like very much to go, but my father says I am too young. Don't you think that when a girl is going to high school she is old enough to go out once in a while with a boy? RUTH.

Your father is right. You are too young to go places at night with a boy. In your junior year you will be old enough to go with boys occasionally, but the matter should not be overdone even then.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 15 years old and have a cousin seven months older than I. When I am at her house she and her girl friend take me to the park. Every time they go they meet some boys. That would be all right if they just talked to them, but they don't. I don't like to act like that. Should I leave them, or what should I do? BOBBIE.

Tell your cousin that you do not want to go to the park again and you would rather not have her ask you to do so. If, however, circumstance places you in a position which you do not consider right, do not hesitate to leave.

The small girl had found a story of the costume period, full of "tushery" talk, says the London Daily News. She evidently liked the language, though she didn't understand it.

"Nay, let us have a tussleth of war on the landing," she was overheard saying to her little brother.

Dinner Stories

The somewhat peppery retired Army officer was playing his dogged best for the club's Summer Medal, but at one hole he was kept waiting for a few minutes by a woman who sauntered carelessly down the fairway, crooning to her baby.

"Come away, madam," cried the Major testily. "Hurry up with that baby of yours."

The indignant mother turned and gave the player a look of scorn.

"Baby yourself," she snapped, "playing with that little ball, and in those ridicuous short trousers, too."—Sporting & Dramatic News (London).

Three-year-old Rita possessed a cat named Corky Davis, says Judge. However, she forsook her pet and journeyed eight hundred miles to visit her grandparents. The morning following her arrival, upon looking out of the window, she cried:

Oh, grandmother, there's a cat that looks like Corky Davis."

"Isn't it strange that you should find a cat like him away down here?" her grandmother replied.

"Oh," Rita answered, "Corky Davis has friends everywhere!"

An old darky was taken ill and called in a physician of his own race, says Everybody's. After a time, as there were no signs of improvement, he called in a white doctor, who soon felt the old man's pulse and then examined his tongue.

"Did your other doctor take your temperature?" he asked.

"I don't know, boss,' replied the sick negro. "I hain't missed nothin' but my watch as yit."

Senator Johnson of Minnesota says, "Call me Magnus." He is lucky if he gets off that easy.

TENNESSEE TEAM IS GRID MENACE

King College Threatens to Crowd Eastern Elevens for Football Honors

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Four years ago Centre college came out of the foothills of Kentucky with a team so gifted that it ran riot against ordinary opposition and soon was dallying with the big timers. Today Centre college is slowly subsiding to normal as water must seek its level. Tomorrow it may be the fate of King college, of Bristol, Tenn., to crowd the headlines and make the turn-stiles whirl.

King college is unknown today, except in the restricted territory of its immediate operations. Yet its record of the last two seasons is such as to cause the lift of an inquiring eyebrow, even among the gridiron aristocracy.

Pile Up Fat Scores

In 1922 King college, with a student body of exactly ninety-two, ran up the amazing total of 498 points and was not scored on in seven games. In six games played this season, the team has scored 432 points to six for the combined opposition, if any. The latter included Bluefield college, which was beaten, 68 to 0; Tennessee Poly, 75 to 0; Elon, 55 to 6; Lenoir, 86 to 0; East Tennessee Normal, 108 to 0, and Milligan, 40 to 0.

Flat wheel opposition, of course, but no more so than that Centre college faced before the fatal day it met and defeated West Virginia, creating automatically its own ballyhoo. King college seeks the same opposition, but the big timers approached have been cautious not to say much. They know they have all to lose and nothing to gain by playing King at this time.

College Is Eligible

There can be no objection, it is said, on the score of eligibility or lack of same. The college now numbers 98 students, 42 of whom are on the football squad, and the scholastic code is said to be quite strict. The team is coached by A. M. Adams, assisted by one Sam Doak of Tusculum.

The parallel with Centre's condition back in 1918 is extended to the fact that King college even has a "Bo" McMillan of its own. He is Elton Sharpe, a 160-pound back, who is able to step through an open field like a hook through an eye. Elton is alleged to be real all-American timber, but is being kept under cover and plays only a comparatively few minutes of each game.

Oxy Freshmen Tackle Calteck Gridiron Team

Coach Tuffy Conn's scrappy bunch of peagreener football artists will daub around on the gridiron tomorrow afternoon on Patterson field with the Calteck Engineer freshmen eleven. Like the varsities of the same two colleges, the frosh teams are the formidable candidates for the conference freshmen championship. Last season Occidental won the frosh title and is out to repeat the job this year. Two years ago the Oxy babes tied Pomona for the top honors, the final score being 7-to-7. Calteck is quietly and rapidly coming to the limelight in all branches of athletics and may surprise the Tiger yearlings.

However, the "Franklin" family team, for Oxy's frosh team has only seven Franklin High stars, all-city prep champs last year, look good. Five of them, Captain Godet, Cuthbert, Brobst, Hitch and Teachout, are on the first string eleven, while Holland and Klienpelt are subs.

Badger Star Banned, Business Men Protest

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 8.—Business men of Madison today entered a protest against the ruling by which Irving Gerber, star right tackle of the Badgers, was declared ineligible because of war work as an athletic director.

Telephone conversations with a Duluth man, said to have headed the camp at LaCrosse, where Gerber was accused of working professionally, brought out that the player is an amateur, business men stated.

Coach Ryan planned to entrain for Urbana this afternoon without Gerber, dubious over the prospective showing of his linesmen in the tilt with Illinois. The game is the most important conference contest of the week. Miller and Opitz are being tried out in Gerber's place.

Princeton in Final Practice for Harvard

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 8.—With the lack of hard practice experienced by the Princeton eleven this week, it was the intention of Bill Roper, head coach, to give the Tigers a brief scrimmage this afternoon and taper off his preparations for the Harvard game with a signal drill tomorrow.

Most of the regulars seem certain of their places for the big test of Saturday with the exception of Bob Beattie. He is being given a stiff fight for one of the halfback postions by Dick Newby, and may watch the start of the game from the sdelines.

Harvard Team Ready for Princeton Game

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 8.—After a brief workout this afternoon the Harvard varsity eleven will pull up stakes and leave for New York, where it will stop over on its way to Princeton for the big game on Saturday.

The varsity is in splendid condition, Hammon being the only regular who is favoring an injury.

MRS. EDDY DIVORCED

PARIS, Nov. 8.—The Seine tribunal has granted a divorce to Mrs. Spencer Eddy, formerly Lurline Spreckels. Mrs. Eddy was granted the custody of a minor son.

Cardinals Start for Battle With Oregon

PALO ALTO, Nov. 8.—After one of the most spirited send-offs in the history of Stanford, the Cardinal football squad is on its way to Portland, Ore., for the annual tilt with the University of Oregon. All of the Stanford players, except Paul Murray, star halfback, have recovered from injuries and are available for Saturday's line-up.

Coach Andy Kerr said the team was in better shape than at any time this season. Kerr hopes to be able to take an early lead against the Oregonians so that he may use his second string men during most of the contest, saving his stars for games later in the month.

Bears Heading South for Trojan Tussle

BERKELEY, Nov. 8.—Thirty grim and determined University of California football players will accompany Coach Andy Smith tonight to Los Angeles, where the Bruins play the University of Southern California Saturday. An upset for California would place the Trojans in front for Pacific coast honors as they have already won from Stanford.

The Bears' line has been considerably improved this week and weak spots developed in the game with Nevada last Saturday ironed out. Coach Smith is expected to spring a number of new plays against the Trojans in the event the Bears are hard pressed to win.

The Sport Crucible

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Those hardy old irreconcilables, Judge Landis and Ban Johnson, are reaching toward the hip again with the idea of shooting it out for the control of baseball, according to well-informed sources. The war, if any, will be started by Johnson, they say, and finished by Landis, who happens to sit in the driver's seat with a contract so uncompromising as to give him an absolute power. He will need it.

It was said that judicious efforts are being made by the Johnson faction to discredit Landis and his administration at every turn. Indirect propaganda, dealing only with general ideas and inuendoes, have been used for this purpose, it is alleged. The business in question has been taken by the Landis element to mean that a determined effort will soon be launched against the judge's control of the game.

It even has been intimated that Landis will be approached by "friends," who will point out to him the expediency of tendering his resignation. One baseball man recently went so far as to declare that some of the club owners would be satisfied to pay Landis his salary for the duration of his contract, if he would step down from the throne. Upon which, the judge's local spokesman made the statement that Landis will serve the seven years of his contract, whether baseball likes it or not.

Baseball is "fixing" for a fight again. Landis, himself, made some few political enemies when he awarded to charity the proceeds of the 1922 world's series game, called in the tenth inning, without consulting Johnson or John A. Heydler. He cemented this hostility by making arrangements for the last series with Johnson and Heydler ignored. Heydler even wasn't aware that the meeting was being held until notified of its outcome by the newspapers.

The propagandists, of course, had been working on the judge for some time previous before this breach of etiquette. However, not all of the adverse comment is actual propaganda. Some of it comes from men who helped to elevate Landis to his position, after the New York, Chicago and Boston clubs of the American league had taken deep and lasting issue with Johnson on his control of baseball, with particular reference to his decision in the famous Mays case.

On that occasion, the National league, in toto lined up with the anti-Johnson trio and voted Landis into one of the biggest and most highly paid offices in public life. Some are said to have lived to regret it. The judge, it is intimated, is entirely too arbitrary to suit some of them. But at the time of his elevation, they signed an agreement to refrain from all public criticism of baseball officials and colleagues.

Noted Entertainer in Occidental Program

The student body of Occidental college yesterday heard Miss Clara Alexander in a unique entertainment, which was heartily appreciated by all who heard it. Miss Alexander, who is a close friend of Mrs. William Chichester, whose family laid the foundations for Occidental college, comes to California direct from Tennessee, where she has been giving readings before the different women's clubs in the south and east.

The program which Miss Alexander presented at Oxy contained a group of readings and poems. Most of the selections were delivered in true southern negro dialect, done extremely well. Miss Alexander is known all over the country and in France as a United States entertainer in the cantonments and war camps.

This was the first time in two years that an entertainer, such as Miss Alexander has appeared before the assembly. The students gave Miss Alexander a great ovation and showed their appreciation and gratitude for her coming to Occidental.

THE GLENDALE

The role of Mark Sabre in A. S. M. Hutchinson's "If Winter Comes," now showing at the Glendale Theatre, is a tempest of emotions. It is played by Percy Marmont, a Londoner himself, born in the British capital. He has been on the stage since he was sixteen years old, playing with Sir Herbert Tree, Sir George Alexander and Cyril Maude.

Ann Forrest, who plays Lady Tybar, was chosen by Director Harry Millarde because of her extreme versatility. In her four years on the screen, she has portrayed women of every class and temperament, and from every angle. One of her greatest assets is that she is as well able to play the ingenue as the heavier roles.

Sidney Herber, who plays Twyning, the villain of the piece, does so with a passion rarely seen on the screen. He makes you hate him whole-heartedly, and sympathize all the more strongly with Mark Sabre and Lady Tybar.

Rules for Respect and Use of American Flag

kerchiefs or printed on paper boxes.

A section of the code dealing with the salute of the flag reads: "During the ceremony of hoisting or lowering the flag, or when the flag is passing in parade or review, all persons present should stand at attention on facing the flag. Men's head-dress should be removed with the right hand and held at the left shoulder."

Other instructions for the treatment of the nation's emblem are given by the conference as:

In decorating the speaker's platform, spread the flag above and behind the speaker, and do not use it for covering the table.

Never Drape Cars

In decorating an automobile, fly the flag, preferably from the radiator cap; never use it for draping the car.

Never fly any emblem except the church pennant above the American flag.

Never dip the colors for any reason, except when saluting the flag of a foreign nation.

For draping, etc., use colored bunting, the blue above, the white in the middle and the red below.

Never overlap any pennant or emblem on the American flag, or display such above it, or to the right of it.

In displaying the flag in a church, it should be from a staff placed on the congregation's right as they face the clergyman, with the service flag, state flag or other emblem on the left wall. If in the chancel, the flag should be placed on the clergyman's right as he faces the congregation.

The above extracts from the code adopted by the American Legion are in conformity with the method of all patriotic societies in the use of the national emblem.

NOTICE OF AWARD OF CONTRACT

Pursuant to Statute and to Resolution of Award of the Council of the City of Glendale, California, adopted the 5th day of November, 1923, directing this notice, notice is hereby given that the said Council, in open session, on the 1st day of November, 1923, opened, examined and publicly declared all sealed proposals offered for the following improvement, to-wit:

The improvement of Railroad Street and certain streets intersecting or terminating therewith, in the City of Glendale, as described in Resolution of Intention No. 2076, passed by said Council on the 23rd day of August, 1923, to which said Resolution reference is hereby made for a description of said work, and of the district to be assessed therefor.

The Council of the City of Glendale determines that serial bonds shall be issued to represent assessments of twenty-five ($25.00) dollars or over for the costs of said work or improvement; said serial bonds shall extend over a period ending nine (9) years from and after the second day of January next succeeding the date of said bonds, and an even annual proportion of the principal sum thereof shall be payable by coupon on the second day of January every year after their date until the whole is paid; and the interest shall be payable semi-annually by coupon on the second days of January and July, respectively, of each year at the rate of seven per cent per annum on all sums unpaid until the whole of said principal and interest is paid.

Said bonds shall be issued in accordance with the provisions of an Act of the Legislature of the State of California, entitled "An Act to provide a system of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost of street work and improvements within municipalities and also for the payment of such bonds," approved February 27, 1893, and of all Acts supplementary thereto and amendatory thereof.

And thereafter, to-wit: On the 5th day of November, 1923, awarded the contract for said work to the lowest regular responsible bidder, to-wit: W. J. Curren, at the prices specified for said improvement in his proposal, on file for said improvement, to-wit:

Grading, per linear foot	$ .40
Paving, per square foot, 6-inch concrete	.23½
Curb, "Class B," per linear foot	.50
Cast Iron Pipe, laid complete	1114.00

And that said award has been approved by the Mayor of the said City of Glendale.

Minimize Reports of Bavarian Invasion

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—Advices received here minimize the dangers of a march upon Berlin by the Bavarian fascisti.

Admiral von Scher, former commander of the German fleet, who was sent to the Thuringian frontier to investigate the possibility of a "Bavarian invasion," reported to Berlin that the situation was not so dangerous as press dispatches had indicated.

It is now believed that the Reichswehr massed along the Bavarian frontier in Saxony and Thuringia can take care of the situation.

$2.14 FOR THIEVES

SANTA ROSA, Nov. 8.—Burglars who entered the railroad depots at El Verano and Sonoma Tuesday night, according to reports to the sheriff here, secured small loot for their trouble, there being but 14 cents in the till at the former place and $2 at the latter.

Among the worst foes to the memory are too much food, too much physical exercise and too much education, say scientists.

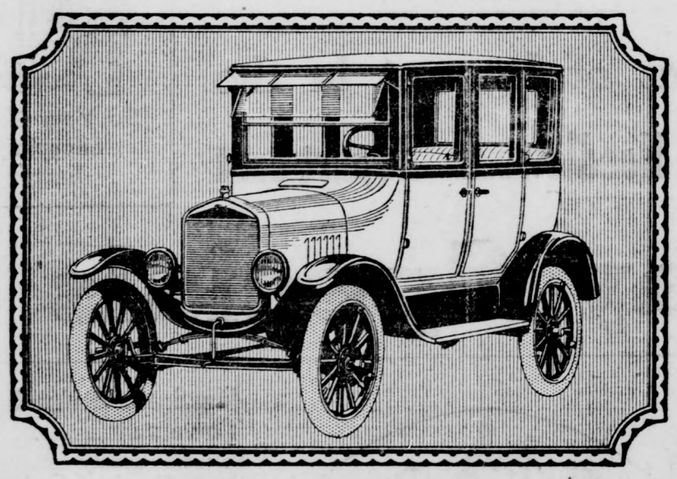
Iowa Not So Dry, Says Attorney General

DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 8.—One-fourth of Iowa's counties are not enforcing the prohibition law, Ben J. Gibson, attorney-general of this state, charged at the opening of the Iowa Law Enforcement conference, called in accordance with a request by President Coolidge. More than two hundred state, county, federal and city law enforcing officers were present.

Honesty travels onward while wickedness slides downward.

Ford

Four-Door Sedan



$685 f. o. b. Detroit, fully equipped.

Inside and out, the new Ford Four-door Sedan shows improvements of far more than usual importance.

It is lower and sturdier in appearance. New cowl, hood, radiator and apron add size and finish to the front. Sun visor, and wide, well-finished aluminum doors with bar handles perfect the design of the body.

The lasting lustre of the exterior finish is equalled in richness by the soft brown shades of the silk window curtains and the deep broadcloth upholstery.

Dome light, door locks, window regulators and handles, all finished in nickel, complete a refinement you would expect only at a far higher price

Convenience, utility and economy have established Ford supremacy. The Four-Door Sedan adds to these factors greater Ford prestige.

BURBANK

MAUSOLEUM WILL RISE 15 STORIES

Permanent Resting Place for Dead to Cost Millions, Say Officials

A mausoleum fifteen stories high, containing 100,000 crypts, is to be erected in Valhalla Memorial park, of concrete, steel and marble, the cost running into millions of dollars, according to the company's plans.

The structure, declares W. E. Smith, will be the most pretentious of its kind in the world, one of the wonders of modern civilization. Nor is it an idle dream but part of a definite construction program that has caused the Valhalla company to recently purchase 52 additional acres of land adjoining their present holdings of 65 acres.

The newly acquired acreage, it is understood, will be set apart as the mausoleum section and on it will be erected numerous small private structures, in addition to the marble colossus above described, which will be earthquake proof and as enduring as the pyramids.

In the event that our nation and the civilization of the western world should follow Egypt, Babylon, Greece and Rome along the pathway of history into oblivion, such a supreme monument to those who passed before would, it is claimed, still be standing 50,000 years hence.

Mass Meet for Boulevard

Mayors of the six San Fernando valley towns met at Van Nuys last night with Mayor Cryer of Los Angeles and other officials of that city to plan Victory boulevard, the new highway linking Burbank with Owensmouth, Reseda; Van Nuys, Lankershim and Chatsworth.

Mayor J. C. Crawford and Charles Cline represented Burbank on the program of addresses. The meeting was an outgrowth of a meeting at Chatsworth last week, attended by Charles Kline, W. J. Riley and Dominick Morro.

Hugh Pomeroy, who was present at this meeting, gave the regional planning commission's official okey to the project.

Figures on Churches

"There are in Burbank, a city of 10,000 population, 1200 church members, 900 of whom attend church on Sunday; and yet of this number, less than 200 actually carry on the work of the churches. There are 2000 pupils in the schools, all under the age of 20. In the Sunday schools, there are 800 pupils, while of this number 660 are under the age of 20; thus of the 2,000 in the week schools, 660 are in Sunday school. In the Wednesday night prayer meetings, there is a total of about 160."

Rev. E. A. Main of the Baptist church, author of these remarks, which came from his pulpit recently, went on in the same address to say:

"In one day there were eleven card parties in this city. Whoever heard of eleven prayer meetings in Burbank in one day?"

Religion Enters Into Human Sacrifice Case

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 8.—Religion is the new element which today enters into that strange case of Mrs. Harriet E. Sullivan, the little paralyzed mother, who must soon choose whether she or her unborn child is to live.

Mrs. Sullivan is a Roman Catholic and as such is called upon by the tenets of her faith to sacrifice her own life when it becomes an issue between her life and that of her child.

A Caesarian operation is the only hope for either child or mother and the operation must be performed as soon as possible. This is the verdict of several prominent local obstetricians. On the other hand, argued the physicians, if nothing is done except to wait, both mother and child will die. If the mother is too weak to undergo an operation, they say, she cannot survive the birth of her child. Dr. Charles Dickerman, an officer of the Massachusetts Eclectic Medical society, urges prompt action on the part of the Cambridge physicians who are attending Mrs. Sullivan.

Lieut. Gov. Young May Succeed Gen. Borree

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 8.—Adjutant-General J. J. Borree today tendered his resignation to Governor Richardson.

General Borree gave no specific reason for retiring from office, merely stating that he wished to go into private work.

The governor's office indicated that Lieutenant-Governor C. C. Young will be called upon to take up the duties of adjutant-general as well as those he now has. This may be done as an "economy" move, it was said.

General Borree, who assumed office on December 16, 1915, will retain his title as brigadier-general and will still be in command of the 79th infantry.

TOLERANCE URGED BY MRS. TOLL

'Evolution of Women' Topic Before Highland Park Club at Theatre

A number of members of the Women's Twentieth Century club were guests of the North Highland Park Women's club yesterday afternoon in the York theatre of the latter community.

Mrs. Charles H. Toll of Glendale, president of the Los Angeles district federation, the principal speaker, addressed the audience on "The Evolution of Women."

It was not only equal rights for women that Mrs. Toll urged, but a more tolerant attitude in the business and professional as well as social worlds.

Coming Events

Tomorrow night, November 8, the Business and Professional Women's club will meet at the public library. This will be the last opportunity for enrollment of charter members, states Dr. Mary McClere. Thereafter the regular admission fee will be charged.

Tomorrow noon the Women's Twentieth Century club will hold a luncheon at the clubhouse, with a program in the afternoon. Mrs. Dan Campbell, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club of Glendale, will be the luncheon speaker. Earl C. Houk, Eagle Rock baritone, will sing a group of songs. The speaker of the afternoon will be Mrs. Charles H. Toll of Glendale, president of the Los Angeles district federation.

Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the local W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. J. P. Peltz, 2224 Sycamore avenue. Rev. W. J. Carry will talk on "Law Enforcement."

The Occidental-York Valley Improvement association will meet at 8 o'clock Friday night at the Occidental Presbyterian church. Mrs. H. G. James, in charge of the affair, states that the free-will offering will be all too little for the fine program provided.

Personal Notes

Miss E. Roxy Martin and Miss Una Cole, missionaries en tour in the interest of foreign missions, were recently entertained by Mr. and Mrs. T. B. McNary, 805 South Central avenue.

Dr. G. P. Clements of 125 North Satsuma avenue and J. Riegans have joined the California Junior Republic house party at Chino.

W. L. Miller of 5125 Rowland avenue has bought a lot on East Palm avenue and will build a five-room house at once.

Miss Iva Phillips of San Bernardino is spending the winter in Eagle Rock. Her sister is Mrs. E. J. Serr of 236 North Eddy avenue.

Green Apples Frizzle In Fire at Dryer

FORESTVILLE, Cal., Nov. 8.—Fire yesterday completely destroyed the big Ito apple dryer plant here, together with twenty-eight tons of dried apples and several tons of green apples, with a loss estimated at $10,000. The plant was the largest in Sonoma county. The entire community joined in fighting the flames, which threatened several large fruit warehouses and adjoining residences.

FIRE DESTROYS SHED

BRAWLEY, Nov. 8.—Fire destroyed the packing shed and warehouse of S. A. Gerrard and company, with a loss estimated at $15,000 to $20,000.

Egyptians used $500,000 worth of foreign perfumery and cosmetics last year, most of it being of French manufacture.

HAVE KIDNEYS EXAMINED BY YOUR DOCTOR

Take Salts to Wash Kidneys If Back Pains You or Bladder Bothers

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids, to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advertisement.

MONTROSE

OPEN SCHOOL AT C. OF C. MEETING

Music Program and Luncheon Entertainment Are Features at Montrose

The new schoolhouse in Montrose was thrown open to the public last evening by the Chamber of Commerce, who held their monthly meeting there, for the first time.

The rooms, beautifully decorated under the direction of Mrs. A. Hopkins, with vases of gaily-colored chrysanthemums, were open for inspection to the visitors.

"Daddy" Carpenter, who has had charge of the cleaning department of the La Crescenta school for years, has been transferred to the smaller new school, which will be his sole charge and his presence added a welcome home-like touch, as Mr. Carpenter and his wife are always present at all affairs at the school.

The Chamber of Commerce did not conduct a regular business session, but held open house for the guests, entertaining them with a splendid program—indeed much surprise was voiced at the number of talented artists in the community. However, with people coming from all over the United States to this beautiful little town, in the glorious Californian mountains, it is only natural that artistic people should seek artistic surroundings.

Lauds Civic Leaders

Ex-Governor Plaisted of Maine gave a few moments' talk on the natural beauty of this portion of California, the growth of the community, and complimented the people on having very capable men, such as Mark S. Collins, Mr. Blanford and J. L. Brown, at the head of civic affairs.

The principal of the La Crescenta and Montrose schools spoke on the growth of the school census, causing much comment by the number of pupils this year being 390, as against 270 last year. The splendid co-operation between teachers and parents is remarkable, according to Mr. Blanford, but that is as it should be where we are rearing coming citizens. Discipline should be exercised in childhood to prepare them for their civic and national duties.

Speaking on the value of the schools in civic purposes and their relation to a community, Mr. Rhienhard gave a most pleasant address. Mr. Rhienhard is a member of this school board and principal of Vermont Avenue school in Los Angeles.

Gas Co. Lays Mains

The local druggist, Mr. Belanger, impressed one with the astonishing fact the Gas Company had not only surveyed to lay their mains, but had piped the gas through the streets ready for the homes in three months. All this haste was due, Mr. Belanger said, to the persistent efforts of the local Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Belanger also thanked the publicity committee for putting over their campaign in such an efficient manner.

Dr. Marion Tracy Whiting put over the Community Sing in her dashing way. Dr. Whiting had charge of Community Sings in the east during the war where, she stated, as many as 12,500 people met together at one time. A musical program showed what capable people are in our midst. None of the performers had appeared here before, and proved a delightful surprise.

Mrs. Tom Reed, who has had much stage experience as a character singer, pleased her audience with her rendition of "The Rosary." Mrs. Reed was accompanied by Mrs. Eccelston on the piano, while her husband played the violin obligato. As her first encore Mrs. Reed gave "Marchita" and as her second "Look for the Silver Lining," receiving deafening applause. A violin solo, "Salut d'Amour," by Mr. Reed, was beautifully given.

Mrs. Evelyn Pierce, well known Glendalian, gave in her own inimitable manner, "The Parting," by Toby. As her encore Mrs. Pierce brought down the house with her well-known "White Sox." The audience was convulsed with laughter, in fact, at times it was difficult to hear Mrs. Pieree.

Encored again, Mrs. Pierce gave the "Swede Boy's Essay On the Frog," after which her hearers reluctantly allowed her to be seated.

J. Eccleston, accompanied by Mrs. Eccleston, gave a bass solo, "Rocked In the Cradle of the Deep." Mr. Eccleston has a remarkably fine bass voice and chooses his songs well. "Davy Jones' Locker" was his encore. Mrs. Eccleston, who has had many years' experience as a concert pianist, charmed her audience with "La Paloma" with variations, and as an encore Mrs. Eccleston gave an improvisation of her own. Mrs. Eccleston has a brilliant touch and produces a remarkable depth of tone in her music.

Flowers For Artists

G. Craft sang "Somewhere a Voice Is Calling" in his own pleasing manner and responded to the applause with "An Old Irish Mother of Mine."

Flowers were presented to all the artists by little Miss Mercy Hopkins, who was attired in a wee net frock over blue silk, with rosebud garland.

Mr. Hopkins expressed the thanks of the Montrose Chamber of Commerce, to those who had so kindly helped to make the evening the success it was. J. L. Brown, as president of the Chamber of Commerce, also expressed his gratitude, adding the best part of the program was to come and inviting all to stay for it, namely, the coffee and cake, both of which were made and donated by George Craft of the Blue Bird cafe.

Notice was also given of the lecture on "Gothic Cathedrals and Churches of Britain and Europe," on November 15; of the Montrose Chamber of Commerce dance on November 10 and the masquerade dance to be given by the Woman's club of the valley on the 17th. All of these affairs are to be held in the auditorium of the La Crescenta school house on Los Angeles avenue.

Slogan Is Adopted

The slogan adopted by the chamber was picked from forty-eight sent in to Mr. Belanger, and will be used from now on to advertise Montrose. The prize of $5 went to Miss Elaine E. Gordon, her slogan being "Montrose, Gem of the Green Verdugos."

Thanks were expressed for the courtesy of the Glendale Music Company in lending a piano for the occasion. Mr. Anawalt of the Anawalt Lumber Company had had built a small platform and presented it to the Chamber of Commerce.

The main decoration in the assembly room was a beautiful new "Old Glory," which was draped over the piano. The school rooms in this new building are artistically finished in restful shades of green. The kitchen is one of the finest to be built, having plenty of cupboards and a spacious cooler. The teachers' rest room is an attractive little room and a much-needed one in any school.

Altogether the La Crescenta school board is to be complimented on this unit of the main school, and Montrosians are justly proud, not only of the new school house, to which they point with pride, but also of the splendid community spirit which made last night's program and entertainment possible.

Stillman 'Confession Letter' Before Judge

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The famous "confession letter," alleged to have been written by Mrs. Anne U. Stillman to her millionaire husband, James A. Stillman, was submitted to the appellate division of the supreme court today as the basis of an appeal from a recent decision of Justice Morschauer in the Stillman divorce suit.

The letter, it is said, bears on the alleged affairs of Mrs. Stillman with Fred Beauvais, the Indian guide.

The decision of Justice Morschauer was the confirmation of the report of Referee Daniel J. Gleason legitimatizing Guy Stillman, Mrs. Stillman's youngest son.
